TWO YOUNG WOMEN; TEN MEN, ON FALL-SINCLAIR JURY

Fall And Sinclair Trial Is Drawing Immense Crowd

Packed Courtroom Greets Principals In Conspiracy Case Resumed Today.

JURY SELECTION ABOUT COMPLETE

Fall Appears In Court Dispelling Fears That He Would Be Confined To Bed.

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Two attractive young women and ten men of mature age will determine the fate of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, on trial here for criminal conspiracy to defraud the Government of Naval Oil Reserves.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Full page picture displays and many columns of print in the local papers concerning the opening proceedings of the criminal conspiracy of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire sportsman, drew a capacity crowd to Justice Siddons' tiny court room today for the second day of the proceedings.

Fall appeared five minutes early, dispelling fears that a bad cough and cold might have kept him in bed. Last night it was reported he had run a temperature and was under a doctor's care. For some time, according to his lawyers, Fall has suffered from congestion of the right lung.

District Attorney Peyton Gordon resumed the questioning of talesmen. He started on the second panel, the first having been exhausted yesterday. Each side has seven peremptory challenges left.

Recites Charge.

Gordon recited the nature of the charge against the defendants to the new talesmen and began questioning George Brenneman, radio salesman, 27th person to pass through the jury box. He had an opinion and was promptly challenged for cause.

John J. Costnett, a tailor, was temporarily accepted and the government used one of its seven peremptory

Coolidge Asserts General Prosperity Is Due To Continue

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Coolidge believes that the present general prosperity of the country will continue indefinitely, it was said at the White House today.

The president bases this prediction upon optimistic reports submitted to him at the cabinet meeting by Secretary of Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of Labor Davis.

Brisbane Sees Mellon-Hughes; Not Coolidge

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 17.—Just had lunch today with Mr. Brisbane. He seems sure Coolidge wont run. He thinks it will be Mellon or Hughes against Smith. He thinks next year will be very prosperous in spite of election.

Brisbane had built a home on the edge of Mojave Desert. He is going to build some homes there for retired firemen.

Can you imagine a fireman retiring to go to the Mojave Desert. He will think he is fighting a fire yet.

He is strong for California but he says the real money in real estate is to be made between Thirty-fourth and Fifty-ninth street New York.

Yours,
WILL.

MANY VISITORS HERE FOR CONSISTORY REUNION

Several hundred visitors are in New Castle today for the start of the three-day reunion of the Scottish Rite bodies in the Scottish Rite cathedral on Lincoln avenue.

The reunion will last through Wednesday and Thursday and will bring a number of notable visitors here for the proceedings, among them being Lieutenant Governor Arthur H. James of the state of Pennsylvania, who will be a guest of honor.

Many counties in western Pennsylvania are represented in the class of candidates and visitors assembled for the three-day program.

Raise Over $1,000 First Day Of Volunteer Giver's Week For Local Chest

With the gift of a check for $250, donated by J. H. Lamb of the Citizens National bank, the first day of Volunteer Givers' Week of the Community Chest fund drive got under way Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. P. J. Flaherty, chairman of the day.

When the committee closed their books at 9 o'clock the same evening, $1,000 had been donated to the fund, $536 of which was in actual cash and the rest in checks. The quota of $500 set for each of the committees that will be at The Castleton this week was exceeded early in the evening and the last man to enter The Castleton to make a donation, signed a check for $53 so that the soum would be an even $1,000.

Working for the Community Chest in this effort Monday were Mrs. P. J. Flaherty, chairman; Mrs. Charles Carroll, Mrs. Ed Wilson, Mrs. Harry Stenger, Miss Alice Martin, Miss Regina Popp, Mrs. James N. Higgins, Mrs. Dan Sullivan, Mrs. Stephen Griffith, Mrs. Joseph Rice, Mrs. Fred Kay, Mrs. A. Green, Mrs. Dan Guinaugh, Mrs. John Maher, Mrs. Ben Martin, Mrs. Maurice Babcock, Mrs. Harry Wettich and Mrs. Bessie McGonigle.

Today's committee is in charge of Mrs. A. C. Hoyt.

Col. Leroy Smith Thrills Veterans

Ex-Service Men Listen For Hour And Half To Address.

RETURN VISIT FOR COLONEL CERTAIN

Brown And Long Tell Of Visit To Convention In Paris Recently.

Any speaker who can hold sixty or seventy-five ex-service men in their chairs for an hour and a half, and then get a demonstration such as Col. Leroy Smith got on Monday night in the Legion Home, needs no other recommendation. To hold that sort of audience you must have something to say, and say it in an interesting way. But when you can hold them for ninety minutes that's artistry.

No more brilliant speaker than Col Smith has ever appeared in the Legion Home. He has a remarkable command of language, a delightful humor and an irony when necessary that gets across. He is refreshingly old fashioned in some of his views. He still believes that this is the best country under the sun, he still believes that a man should worship God as he pleases, and while he hopes that war will cease, he believes that America should not be found defenseless should the time ever come when defense is necessary.

Not A Professional Soldier

Col. Smith is not a professional soldier but rather is a Reserve Officer whose services with the General staff of the War Department were found so valuable that he was prevailed upon to stay for a two year service instead of six months. He is not a minister and yet few ministers get over a better sermon than ran through his talk last night. He would deny being a humorist, yet

ARGUMENT ISSUES OVER LOADING

Woman Flier Determined To Make Flight, Will Not Be Stopped Now She Says.

(International News Service)

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., Oct. 18.—Adverse winds along the shore, coupled with a disagreement over the question of the lifting power of the trans-Atlantic plane "The Dawn," caused Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson today again to postpone the take off for Copenhagen, Denmark.

"The Dawn" may hop at low tide, between eleven and twelve o'clock tomorrow forenoon, she said.

In the take off yesterday "The Dawn" was down by the nose because of an unequalized load and had to return. Mrs. Grayson today was insisting on another load test with Navigator Brice Goldsborough objecting on the ground of unnecessary delay.

NIGHT FLIGHT TO BE ATTEMPTED

Three Brazilian Fliers Are Killed In Giving Welcome To Frenchmen

(International News Service)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 18.—A flight from here to Buenos Aires at night, the first of its kind, will be attempted by Dieudonne Costes and Lieutenant Le Brix, French aviators, who are here on a Paris-Argentina flight.

The fliers announced today that they will leave for Buenos Aires tonight. The French aviators will participate in the funeral today of the three Brazilian aviators who were killed here during the welcoming ceremonies accorded the Frenchmen.

As Costes and Le Brix arrived from Caravello, Brazil, two Brazilian planes collided in the air and fell in flames. The French joined in the attempt to rescue the fallen airmen but the flaming wreckage made rescue impossible.

After reaching Buenos Aires, Costes said, he and his companion will return to Rio De Janeiro to prepare for a flight across the Andes mountains to Chile.

Tax Reduction Steps Will Start On Next Monday

Special Joint Committee To Meet To Consider Revision Of Law.

REDUCTION MAY REACH $350,000,000

Repeal Of Several Kinds Of Tax Are Also To Be Advocated.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The initial step toward a $350,000,000 tax reduction bill will be taken next Monday when the special joint finance committee of Congress will meet to consider a revision of the administrative features of the law, it was learned today.

The joint committee, composed of five senators and five representatives will not touch upon tax rates but will confine their hearings to questions affecting the administration of the tax law. The House Ways and Means Committee, however, will convene a week later—on Monday, Oct. 31—to begin consideration of lower tax rates.

New Tax Bill

The new tax bill will be limited to a maximum reduction of $350,000,000 if senate leaders have their way. This figure probably will be reduced, it was said, if the new congress indicates in its early days a disposition toward lavish appropriations for flood relief, farm relief, an increased navy, a new army housing program and a new public building program.

A tentative schedule of reduction

Close Friends Of George Greer Give Testimony

Say Alleged Signature To Dr. Meissel Note Not In Mr. Greer's Handwriting.

WALLACE NAME IS NOT HIS SIGNATURE

Depositions Taken From Dr. Meissel At Terre Haute, Ind. Introduced.

That the signature to a note alleged to have been given by the late George Greer to Dr. Henry F. A. Meissel and upon which Meissel is now trying to collect $18,479.52, is not that of Greer, was the opinion of a number of business men, who testified in the case now on trial before Judge Hildebrand in the Lawrence county court.

Among the witnesses were some of Mr. Greer's closest friends and business associates, who all testified that they were familiar with his signature, and that Mr. Greer's name as it appears on the note held by Meissel is not in his handwriting. Among those who so testified were Samuel Foltz, D. S. Pyle, John H. Lamb, John Elder, Fred H. Foltz, George Carpenter, John Pattison, A. C. Hoyt, W. H. Marquis, Attorney Walter S. Reynolds and Robert C. Love, the latter executor of Mr. Greer's will.

All of the witnesses testified that they had been familiar with Mr. Greer's signature over a term of years. Many of them pointed out the differences in the handwriting as it appeared on the note and as Mr. Greer wrote his name.

Say Signature Not Genuine.

Five witnesses also testified that the name of former Judge W. D. Wallace, as it appears as a witness to the alleged Greer signature, is not in the handwriting of Mr. Wallace. They were Dr. R. A. Wallace, J. C. Wallace, brothers of the late W. D. Wallace, and John Elder, Attorney Samuel L. Clark and Attorney Walter S. Reynolds.

During the progress of the trial Monday afternoon a deposition of Dr. Meissel, taken before Jessie L. Dean, a notary public at Terre Haute, Ind., was introduced. This deposition was taken soon after an attempt was

Renew Old Romance

Couple On Honeymoon After 10-Year Lapse In Courtship.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. COLTON

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 18.—A romance that bloomed years ago, faded almost into the limbo of things forgotten and then found new life again, is revealed here.

The principals are George W. Colton and his bride of two weeks, who have just sailed for Japan.

Several years ago, Colton met the present Mrs Colton in Minneapolis on a visit to his parents. Their friendship developed into a romance. Then he was forced to leave for the Orient.

Three months ago, he came to the United States again on business and visited his parents in Los Angeles, where they had moved. Again he met the girl from Minneapolis, this time a widow, Mrs. A. A. Bigler.

In true story book style, the romance was renewed and they are on their honeymoon.

DISTRICT LEADERS MAKE ADDRESSES

Plans Being Made For Eleventh Annual Roll Call.

Nearly 100 delegates, representing 24 chapters of the American Red Cross are in conference in The Castleton today for the Tenth Anniversary Roll Call which is being held here under the auspices of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The conference opened at 10:15 this morning with Hon. William J. Moffat, president of the Lawrence County chapter as chairman of the day. Dr. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church invoked a Divine blessing upon the gathering and State Senator George T. Weingartner delivered the address of welcome.

"Glad You're Here"

In welcoming the delegates, Senator Weingartner explained that The Castleton was not quite finished and that because of it some of the finishing touches they might expect

Ruth Elder Leaves Azores For Lisbon

Fliers Enroute To Portugal Via Boat—Will Fly On To Paris

(International News Service)

HORTA, The Azores, Oct. 18.—Bidding farewell to this little port and to its inhabitants who fairly outdid themselves to welcome her in royal fashion, Miss Ruth Elder with Captain George Haldeman, was on her way to Paris.

When the daring girl flyer reaches Lisbon, she will be met by an airplane which Haldeman will pilot to paris. The plane was to leave Paris for Lisbon today.

Ruth's stay here ended in a round of entertainments and farewells. Among the last to bid them goodbye was the crew of the German Junker Plane who are awaiting good weather before hopping off across the same route the American girl took coming.

The Portuguese mail steamer, Lima, carrying the two American fliers pulled out of the harbor here at daybreak bound for Lisbon. From there Miss Elder will continue to Paris.

Miss Elder and Haldeman boarded the Lima last night and were given a hearty farewell by the governor and all the inhabitants of Fayal. Before retiring, Miss Elder told the International News Service:

"I love Fayal, but I am longing to be in Europe."

Daring Women Fliers Meet In Azores; Praise Is Given Ruth Elder

HORTA, The Azores, Oct. 18. — From one daring woman unafraid of the perils of trans-atlantic flying to a sister who has proven her lack of fear of the same circumstances—Admiration!

This was the impression left with me today by Lilli Dillenz, Viennese actress who is to be a passenger aboard the junker plane when it sets off across the Atlantic for New York. Fraulien Dillenz was speaking of Miss Ruth Elder when she said:

"I must acknowledge true admiration for her unerring courage, her suave, agreeable and loving disposition, and her kindly interest in our own accomplishments."

"It has given me the greatest pleasure to meet the daring American girl with the dancing eyes and rippling laugh. She is captivating and lovable and appears to be out of place in a plane.

"She told me that when she fell into the ocean, she was obliged to laugh. This is perfectly true—Ruth always laughs, is always cheerful and nothing dampens her feelings.

"We offered her a seat in our plane on its westbound trip, but she was ready to go, she could not accept as she was under contract.

"Ruth is anxious to get to Paris while I am anxious to get to America. Among other things Ruth told me she was passionately fond of dancing.

"Our conversation naturally drifted almost unintentionally to aviation topics and we exchanged confidences like two sisters just returned from a holiday. Ruth, like myself, feels romantically interested in this island and believes that the future airways may lie in this direction.

"Of course, Ruth is a pilot and I am only a passenger, but nevertheless we are both adventurers and have kindered spirits Ruth told me that in spite of her experience she was not at all depressed.

"I don't see how she could be depressed her vivacity would be sufficient to make any gathering attractive. Why, Fayal has been agog with excitement for the past two days even

Report Princess Ileana Is Being Closely Guarded

Roumanian Capital Gossips Over Recent Rumor Of Princess' Love For Naval Officer

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—Gossip at Bucharest continues to center about the Princess Ileana youngest daughter of Queen Marie and the late King Ferdinand of Roumania, and her supposed love affair with Naval Commander Palus, a 35-year-old married man.

Following reports that the 18-year-old princess had eloped with Naval Commander Palus which was officially denied, another sensational report (which was also formally denied) came from Bucharest today that the princess tried to commit suicide in Siniwi palace because her love affair with the dashing naval officer had been balked by her mother.

According to the latest rumors in Bucharest, which were received here in private dispatches to avoid the Roumanian censorship Ileana had been held virtually a prisoner in the palace.

New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Gentlemen:

Here we are, second letter at 7:30 Monday morning, with thoughts still turning back to New Castle, and just with a desire to express appreciation to you as a paper for making it so very easy for me in connection with the publicity of that convention, I had a loafing job.

I didn't really realize while I was there the magnitude of the work you people had done and the various divisional reports that you had covered until I reached home on Saturday and yesterday afternoon took time enough to go through all the papers and clip out the various convention news items and just notice what a wonderful spread you gave us. I want to thank you.

We did not want to leave, I heard more than our own load say that, but our own load did not want to and fact of the matter is after we reached Ellwood City and found ourselves on the wrong road we decided to go back to New Castle and start over again.

Yesterday I know of three pastors in the county out of our 28 delegates that preached on New Castle and the convention and I know that our own opened up with quiet an elaborate address in connection with the hospitality of the people, of the Scottish Rite cathedral, and of your paper and of New Castle in general, and then the program afterwards.

There is no doubt about it we will think of you people there in mighty fine terms for many years to come. You certainly did it.

Most cordially yours,
H. C. HECKERMAN.
Charge of State Sabbath School Publicity.

Those golden days of the early fall are beginning to fade and wane, and the days present us with chilly air and a drizzle of autumn rain. And the golden tones of the meadows and fields are turning a murky brown, and out in the forest the emerald rug is showered with leaves coming down. But its just the beginning of what's to come, when the storm king comes with a roar, and the rain is a harbinger, wet indeed, of the snow that the king has in store. Not pleasant, of course as we walk along, but needful for days to come when the plows will come out and the soggy fields will list to the tractor's hum. So though you may shudder at chilly days and the ones that are yet in store, you can think of the spring and the things it brings, the weather is fifty-four.

Claims $25,000 Damages, Injured As Stands Fall

Washington Citizen Files Damage Suit Against W. & J. College Officials

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 18.—Arthur L. Lyle of this city today filed suit for $25,000 alleged damages against Washington & Jefferson college here, as a result of injuries he claimed to have received when a grandstand collapsed during a football game between W. & J. and Carnegie Tech at College field October 17, 1925.

President S. S. Baker of Washington & Jefferson, the athletic director and the athletic board were made defendants in the suit.

Lyle stated he suffered a fractured left ankle, a cut right hip and was confined to his home for several months as a result of the accident.

It is understood the Lyle claim is the only one outstanding as a result of the accident, the college having settled all other claims out of court.

made to collect the note. In it Dr. Meissel admitted his prison record for forgery, grand larceny and horse stealing.

This morning David Reynolds, who lived on the farm adjoining the Farver farm which was sold to Greer, testified that he had a conversation with Dr. Meissel about the time of the sale and that Dr. Meissel had told him that the farm had been sold for $72.50 per acre. Dr. Meissel was placed on the stand and denied having made this statement to Reynolds. He said that he had not told Reynolds anything about the price.

Evidence was introduced by the defense showing that Mr. Greer had agreed to pay $10,250 for the farm. He had given a check for $9,000 and later one for $1,250. This check was marked "balance in full" and was cashed by the payee, Emma D. Farver, at a Terre Haute, Ind., bank.

Testimony was closed shortly before noon and arguments started. The case will go to the jury this afternoon.

gether from depositions of 69 witnesses, that Charles H. Elston, Remus' attorney, says will prove the defense contention that Remus was crazed by the persecutions of his wife and her alleged lover when he fired the fatal shots.

Judge Chester R. Shook of the Hamilton county criminal court yesterday ruled that under the new Ohio insanity law Elston would have to present that contention today and abide at the murder trial by the finding of a sanity hearing to be held October 31.

Elston pleaded that the insanity defense could be introduced at any time it was pertinent to the defense, from preliminary hearing to final trial, but was overruled.

Judge Shook also ruled that Remus, as a defendant in a capital case, could not leave the state to be present when defense depositions were taken, so the evidence hunting party will include only Remus' counsel and representatives of the county prosecutor's office.

Atlanta, where John Snook, warden of the federal penitentiary, is expected to tell of the beginning of the Remus-Dodge romance; Washington, where Rep. Fiorello LaGuardia charged in congress that Dodge was bootlegging Remus' liquor stores; Detroit and Lansing, where Remus sought in vain for an alleged cache of securities and whiskey certificates; Chicago, Indianapolis and St. Louis will be visited.

The party leaves for Atlanta tonight.

Meanwhile Remus will be under observation by three alienists retained by the state.

however, will be featured by a proposal to slash the corporation tax from 13½ to 12 per cent, according to Senator Reed Smoot, (R) of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. This reduction, Smoot said will relieve the greatest inequality in the present tax law, as congress gave the corporation tax the lightest reduction recorded in the last tax bill.

Smoot also came out for repeal of the wartime excise taxes, that group popularly called "nuisance taxes." He advocated, in particular, repeal of the automobile tax. Smoot likewise recommended repeal of the Federal inheritance tax "because it is wrong in principle" but said this would be the last reduction sought.

The administration features of the law meanwhile will be thoroughly examined by the joint committee with a view to eliminating considerable red tape from the process of collecting taxes. Much criticism has been aimed at the Treasury Department because of delay in approving tax returns and because of its action in frequently reopening tax cases several years after the taxes have been paid. The committee will consider amendments to the law, intended to provide for early settlement of all tax cases and for a briefer limit upon the time in which cases can be reponed, except where fraud or collusion can be shown.

The joint committee comprises Senator Smoot (R), Watson (R), Ind., Reed (R) Penna., Simmons (D) N. C., and Jones (D) N. M., and representatives Green (R) Iowa, Treadway (R) Mass., Hawley, (R) Ore., Garner (D) Texas, and Collier (D) Miss. Green is chairman.

President Moffatt then called for a roll call of chapters, beginning with Armstrong county. As the county was called, a representative told of the work accomplished during the past year and of the plans which were in progress for the coming year.

At 11:15 Earl F. Gates, assistant director of the Eleventh Roll Call spoke on "Our Goal in The 115th Roll Call." He urged the delegates to go back to their home chapters and get into the work of enrolling 5,000,000 members for the coming year. Following his address, Mrs. W. O. ADVERSE WEATHER CAUSES DELAY FOR AIRPLANE "DAWN" guide the ship, was non-commital, only insisting apparently that he have a south, southeast or southwest wind for the take-off.

The disagreement between Mrs. Grayson and her navigator broke out in a local hotel while they were studying weather reports from steamships at sea.

Determined To Go

"I'm going to make this trip regardless of what happens," said Mrs. Grayson, it was learned. "I've worked more than a month on this flight and I'm going through with it in every detail."

The crew of the Sikorsky Airplane Company worked all night in equalizing the load. All was ready for a take off today.

Weather reports today, although showing a strong northeast wind on the coast, noted clear weather over the Atlantic with visibility the best in some days.

Navigator Goldsborough, it was learned, was for an immediate hop with the low tide around eleven o'clock this morning. Mrs. Grayson raised the question of another load test. She wanted to lighten the load of "The Dawn" further and make another test flight.

"That means that all we have done here will have to be done all over," Goldsborough exclaimed, it was learned.

"Kincade (T. Harold Kincade, motor expert) wouldn't have given the motors his O. K. if they weren't all right."

Then Mrs. Grayson gave her ultimatum—that she was going to Copenhagen, but that she would not start until every detail was checked up. That she would not be hurried by two brave but impatient men.

there was a vein of genuine humor throughout. His talk was along the line of reasonable preparedness for this country and in his remarks he took occasion to compliment the American Legion for the splendid idealistic work it has done since its organization.

The United States Army can be proud of such men. It is to be hoped that he can return to New Castle at a time when he can be heard by an audience that will number several thousand for no more delightful speaker has been heard here in years.

Tell of Visit to France

Attorney Orville Brown and Past Commander Harry M. Long spoke at the opening of the meeting on their recent visit to France with the American Legion convention delegates and interested the men present with their account of the splendid reception by the French people. District Deputy Commander Pat J. Dempsey was in charge of the meeting and introduced the speakers. Paul A. Welsh directed the pep singing and Arch Cubbison, the "orchestra" for the evening sang the number that he alone can do so well, "The Wooden Wedding."

It was the first meeting of the year of the Legion Lunch Club and was a happy augury of a successful season.

KNOWLES TO TAKE TRAFFIC COUNT

Difficulty Between City And Firm Is Overcome, White Reports

Morris Knowles company has receded from their position, that of requesting the city to pay $300, above the $2,500 contract price for a traffic survey here, Solicitor Robert White informed members of city council today and the traffic count will be conducted here Wednesday.

According to a recent communication the company said that in presenting a price of $2,500, to the city the firm had anticipated that the count would be made by Boy Scouts.

When the time came the Boy Scouts refused and councilmen approved their refusal believing it would be unfair for the boys to do free work inasmuch as the firm had been granted the contract.

Council Friday informed the company that unless they desired to carry out the terms of the contract work should stop. The firm receded and "everything's lovely" as Solicitor White stated today.

The survey is being taken for the purpose of aiding the city in its fight to secure bridges which city councilmen declare is the only way that traffic can be relieved in New Castle.

The wonder artist was Leonardo da Vinci, painter, sculptor, architect, musician, engineer, scientist.

Councilmen Show Solomon's Wisdom

Recently members of the street department, in putting in a storm sewer in East Long avenue laid it in such a manner it travelled through a garden which contained 'peppers'. It is reported the owner threatened to sue the city. Councilmen Lou Genkinger and Davies conferred with the owner and the suit was stopped when Davies purchased a bushel of 'peppers' for the garden-owner.

Deaths Of The Day

Carl Gustavson.

Carl Gustavson, aged 28 years, of Bessemer, Pa., died Monday morning at 11:00 o'clock at the New Castle Hospital following an operation.

He is survived by his wife and one infant son. He was a member of the Lutheran church of Youngstown, Ohio and also belonged to the K. of P. and S. S. A. lodges of Youngstown.

New Electrical Hobby Horse For Coolidge Is Seen

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Coolidge's famous electrical hobby horse has a stable mate.

A new type of electrical vibrator, producing the same results as the hobby horse but with less assault upon the "rider" has been established in the White House. It was learned today. The vibrator is "fed" from the same electric light plug that nourished "Electra," the hobby for the past year.

The mechanical steed, it was learned, has been covered with a blanket and rests quietly, while the shiney new vibrator hums with life and energy. The latter is used by encircling the anatomy with a wide elastic band, attached to a cam-shaft, which rotates rapidly. The effect upon the "rider" is the same as a long ride on "Electra."

So the President, it is said, can take his riding standing up.

ENTERTAINMENT DE LUXE AT CAPITOL THEATRE

Entertainment de luxe might be a good term for the bill at the Capitol Theatre this half of the week. The acts are diversified enough that one can enjoy all of them, and a picture, "All Aboard" with the inimitable Johnny Hines at his best.

Marie Allyn and Company, an act consisting of four girls and a man is a twelve minute musical revue. Pretty girls, flashy costumes, and some seeing.

graceful stepping fills their spot on the bill most creditably.

Hayes and Tate have an act built up of wise cracks and witty cross fire. They do not dance, nor do they know anything about card tricks, but their cross fire patter goes over big.

Pat Kerwin, the Nut Boquet has a monologue in which he discusses the other acts rather humorously. All in all the bill is good and well worth

PROTECTION, NOT REVENGE

YEARS ago the United States abolished the practice of sentencing criminals to solitary confinement for long, continuous periods. Solitary confinement once meant that the prisoner neither saw nor talked with any other human being for months or even years. Now, when it is used at all, it provides that the convict shall spend his nights alone but during the day will work and eat with his fellow prisoners.

Aroused by increasing crimes of violence, New Hampshire authorities have threatened to invoke an old state law permitting solitary confinement of bank bandits, payroll robbers and highwaymen. Of course the threat will not be put into force. It was merely a product of justified irritation, and on second thought those who thought of the scheme will be convinced that more harm than good would come of it. There is little doubt that they would be immediately dissuaded if they read again in Dickens' "American Notes" the reflections of the English novelist on solitary confinement as he saw it in Pennsylvania on one of his American tours.

Solitary confinement for more than a few hours is rather a form of torture than punishment. It drives men mad and fills with bitter hatred for society the minds of those liberated before they have had time to become crazed. Such punishment was an invention of the old penology, the inquisition, and was an instrument of torture of the kings by divine right.

Modern penology has for its purpose the protection of society, rather than the avenging of society. Modern society, at least in theory, deprives of their liberty only the enemies of society and those whom society hopes to convert into useful citizens through enforced discipline.

FRAUD AMONG CHANNEL SWIMMERS

THE story of Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan's "hoax" to show how easy it was for swimmers to deceive the public into believing that they have crossed the English Channel is very mystifying. Does Dr. Logan, who swims professionally under the name of Miss Mona McLellan, wish to expose faked channel swimming records which have been made in recent years? Which would she attack?

A prize was offered by a British newspaper to the British woman who would beat the channel crossing record of the American, Gertrude Ederle.

In the past month three women have been reported as successful in swimming from France to England. In addition to Dr. Logan they are Miss Mercedes Gleitz, a London typist, and Mrs. Ivy Gill of Sheffield. In addition to Miss Ederle, Mrs. Clemington Corson of New York, succeeded in crossing the strait in 1926. Many men have succeeded, but because of the swift and erratic tides the feat has remained a matter of judgment and good fortune as well as of swimming ability.

When public attention was centered closely on the channel swimming efforts some time ago the expeditions were accompanied by a considerable number of witnesses who were a reasonable protection against any fraud. As public interest waned the swimmers' witnesses were confined to the members of their own party and the crew of the boat that paced them. But even in these cases there was little hesitancy in accepting the formal affidavits of the witnesses and the statement of the swimmer.

Dr. Logan's claim that she had broken Miss Ederle's record was questioned by French newspapers; therefore it must be admitted that here was one fraud, at least, that was challenged. The matter is further complicated by the award of the $5000 prize which Dr. Logan has now returned. In the case of most of the claimants to channel swimming fame there was no prize except that provided by public acclaim and the rewards which possibly might accrue from it.

RADIO CHANGES

TWO announced changes in the federal radio-control arrangements are signs of renewed activity in that field. The Federal Radio Commission made public on Saturday a list of sixty stations whose wave positions and power rating would be changed on November 1.

More shifts may be expected, it seems, in line with the commission's efforts to reduce interference and to give the more important stations a better right of way.

The personnel of the commission also will undergo a change on November 1, when Commissioner Bellows will return to Minneapolis to resume charge of the station from which he was "drafted" by the government. His place will be taken by Sam Pickard, a young Kansan, whose pioneering in aerial lectures resulted in his appointment to a radio post in the department of agriculture.

Meanwhile, Senator Watson, of Indiana, has confirmed reports that he would introduce a bill in the next congress for a communications commission to regulate telephone, telegraph and radio services.

As he was active in the fight last winter against forming a radio commission in the department of commerce, his efforts may reopen the struggle between friends and opponents of Secretary Hoover. Such a struggle, regardless of the advisability of creating another federal organization along the lines of the Interstate Commerce Commission, might be most unfortunate fears the Public Ledger. Radio control is still in an uncertain state, and politics would do it no good.

Those who took part in the Sabbath school convention last week did not have the fun of resting up after it on Sunday, anyhow.

An actress after divorce charges her husband with "mental cruelty." That is another form of torture that is new to us.

Seventeen unclaimed bodies were cremated in the morgue in Allegheny county last Saturday, seven white men, four negroes and six babies. There is something wrong with some one somewhere when a condition like that exists.

The United States now uses 58 pounds of white newspaper per capita. That is the amount credited to those who read newspapers. Lots of people cannot even carry their per capita of white newspaper according to that—and that is a lot of paper when multiplied with the population of this great country.

Some men are surely liberal with their wives. Take the husband of Ruth Elder, for instance, who flew across the Atlantic all alone with a man. Lots of men would not want their wives to come back if they flew away like Ruthie did even if she did not get drowned. How about you Mister?

Some people do not seem to be able to make much of a success of their own affairs because they pay too much attention to the affairs of others.

If you want to see what is in or what is not in a prominent citizen put him or her on a committee that has to do with the welfare of humanity in general or any civic project that is worth while and must be put over. You will be surprised—at the slackers.

The Premier of Italy is getting ready for a lot of trouble for himself if we are not mistaken. He has issued an order that skirts must be long in Italy, broadcasting must cease at 10 p. m. and the use of face powder must be regulated. He should be smart enough to know that no nation is or ever was successful where women were held down with an iron hand. In this country nothing will keep women from doing what they want to do—and we are for that.

Some time ago a college professor or something suggested that we add one other R to the three for Ruggedness. Now some other chap wants to add three C's to the R's, Culture, Character and Citizenship. This will be fine if it does not make too many people high hat.

It isn't much of a church member that stays away from church because he is so constituted that he does not like the preacher. We have found that preachers as a general rule, are more liable to be charitable than the members of the churches are. Preachers have to stand for a lot we never would stand for.

A man out west got a verdict for three thousand dollars in court against a ball club because he was hit on the nose by a foul tip while attending a game. Cheap!

Just like incompatibility ruins your cup of coffee at the breakfest nook in the morning likewise does it ruin the rest of the day.

There are people who get more kick out of their money by spending it and giving it away than they do by keeping it.

What the fellows have always heard about girls being knock-kneed now they can see for themselves.

A man has to be married quite awhile before he uses the same language in front of his wife that he does at the club.

A New York lady is suing a man for two hundred and fifty thousand dollars damages because he disillusioned her by refusing to marry her after he had intimated that he would. It seems to us that lady is lucky to find out she was disillusioned before the married him. Many a lady would give a good deal to have known just what that lady found out before it was everlastingly too late.

College boys have thought of almost every appropriate flivver sign except "A Can Of Sardines."

Personality is a part of success that one can't buy with his college course.

A lady contemplating a flight across the ocean found that she could not take the clothes along she had made for the trip so she bought a new hat and had a pair of high heeled silver slippers made to order to wear on the trip. She was all ready to be an angel without change of costume.

If the frost gets any corn this year before it is cut it surely will not be the fault of the frost. It has been a wonderful fall for the farmer and if he has not profited by it he is out of luck.

We have an idea that a few fines of about $25 on some of the half grown louts that celebrate Hallowe'en about two weeks before the right time would put a stop to a lot of outlawry that has existed for some years. Nothing beats a big fine or better still in jail over Hallowe'en. We are betting that putting about six rowdies in jail this week will make even Hallowe'en night an orderly affair. It would be worth trying anyhow and it would meet with the approval of all good citizens. No good citizen approves of destroying property.

It now develops that the English female doctor who is supposed to have swum the English channel in record breaking time faked the swim and did not complete it at all. She claims she did the faking to show how easy it could be done. Looks as though there will have to be expert supervision of channel swimming as well as counting the second in a boxing match in the future.

It was unnecessary for King George to apologize for the London fog when he greeted the Legionnaires on their visit to Buckingham. The Americans have heard so much about the London fog they would have been disappointed if one hadn't been hanging around when they were there. Now they will have something to talk about the rest of their lives.

DEMPSEY VS. TUNNEY

October 14, 1927

Dear Sir:—

Will you please tell us in the Hints and Dints column what churches, Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey belong too. Also what nationality they are.

Yours Trutly,
A Hints and Dints reader.

Note—Jack Dempsey is a protestant, but we have no record of what church he attends.

Gene Tunney is a Roman Catholic and attends the Roman Catholic church.

Those bears are wise for when the season comes that they are hunted, you can't find them anywhere. Jay-walking bears are all right perhaps, but if they're going to get penurious that way we'll have to give the autoists the same rights with them that the autoists take with pedestrians.

Wise Mr. Giannini.
All Depends on Men.
Mr. Ford's Rubber Trees.
23 Foolish Billions.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

The Los Angeles Examiner says Mr. Giannini's Bank of Italy is now the world's largest financial institution, in capital and surplus, government institutions, only, excepted.

The Giannini bank, and its allied corporation, holder of gigantic assets, the Bancitaly, interest high finance. It would like to know how so big a concern could be built in California, far from Wall Street and the "honey center". Here is a partial answer.

A. P. Giannini, starting just after the San Francisco fire, created his own precedents and traditions, after being mercifully free from some of the old ones.

When the fire made timid financial gentlemen draw into their shells, Giannini made the loans they would not make. In 1907, when some bankers would not lend at any interest rate, Giannini advertised for good borrowers.

Unlike some bankers, he did not feel that the only time to lend is when money is not especially needed.

He had confidence in American properties and bought for his institution tens of thousands of shares of New York Central. Next to George F. Baker, Bancitaly is the largest holder of New York Central stock. He bought 200,000 shares of Standard Oil of California, which is like buying acreage in Sinbad's Valley of Diamonds, bought Standard Oil of New Jersey and large blocks of stock in the National City bank of New York and other great concerns. And his company is the largest holder of United States government bonds.

All that was good judgment, but only the least part of Mr. Giannini's success. He understands the value of men and the importance of having them interested in their work.

When he bought up and absorbed scores of financial institutions, he kept the good men in them and showed them how to make more money, with the Bank of Italy back of them. More money for the bank, more for THEMSELVES.

And let other "big men" observe this: HE GIVES THE EMPLOYES IN HIS INSTITUTION FORTY PER CENT OF ALL THE PROFITS. His sound belief is that with every man in the organization deeply interested stockholders will get more profit from 60 per cent of the earnings than they would from 100 per cent under the old methods.

The original Giannini stock has risen from $100 to $1,000 a share. Mr. Giannini cautions the public against overspeculation in his stock, and you are hereby cautioned not to gamble in it, as many are doing.

The whole problem in branch banking, according to Mr. Giannini, who has more than 160 branches in California alone, is to find GOOD MEN.

And the problem, after you find them, is to keep them working. That is a problem with head men especially. The Giannini rule is that no man can remain president of the Bank of Italy for more than five years—then some other man gets the place.

After five years in the presidency, a man often devotes more thought to his own greatness than to the bank's needs.

What is true of banking is true of everything. Encourage little men, interest them in the business and make sure that the big men are really working.

Standard Oil understands the problem, always promoting men from the ranks to high positions, and running an organization in which even the smaller men are violently interested.

Henry Ford, it is said, will plant rubber trees on a three million acre concession in Brazil. His friend Firestone is planting rubber in Liberia. All modern methods, including airplane for surveying supervising will be used in the rubber planting.

But about the time these new rubber trees begin turning out tires, the General Motors or Standard Oil laboratory may supply a synthetic substitute for rubber that will make rubber trees useless.

Not long ago tiny cochineal creatures were collected from leaves of plants for their brilliant crimson and small sea creatures were collected to provide purple back in ancient days. Now analine dyes have put an end to those slow processes. All that rubber possesses is the power to bounce back when you push it in, called "resiliency." Science will provide that resiliency without aid from rubber trees.

Power companies worth 23 billion dollars don't want the government to harness the Colorado river. That might mean competition in the power business.

Twenty-three billions is less than $230 per inhabitant of the United States—less than the price of a small automobile. "Twenty-three billions" sounds big, but 115,000,000 human beings, all interested in Colorado river development, possess power also. The Colorado will be developed, and power gentlemen will be glad when it happens. Learned bankers fought the federal reserve law, dreading interference with pleasant profits. It has saved them from black panic half a dozen times.

Foresight is what a man gets credit for when other people build a town around his weed patches.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

MODERN CHRISTIANITY

President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, declared the other day in Boston that the church "must interpret the spirit of Christianity and it must translate its teachings into action in order to bring about acceptance of its principles and its philosophy.

To be sure. But the preacher or other man who attempts to put the principles of Jesus into practical operation is sure headed for trouble.

People may question whether or not Jesus was the Son of God or the Savior of the world or born of a virgin, but without question he represented a view of life absolutely unique.

In all quarrels between labor and capital, in most law suits and in difficulties between nations, some party always insists that people go back to the principles of Jesus. It is universally recognized that if everybody practiced those truths we would not have much more trouble.

It took a long while for the world to find out that dueling was not a satisfactory way to defend one's honor. It is much better to relegate such things to a higher tribunal than to settle them one's self.

It took a great war in the United States to pound into us that human slavery was wrong and didn't pay.

This lumbering old world is a long while in getting up to anything like the adoption of the principles of Jesus.

We are yet a long way from doing away with war, and national egotism and touchiness are looked on as virtues and called patriotism.

When Tolstoy was told that those who practiced the teachings of Christ had a hard time in this world, he replied, "How about other people? Do those people who do not practice the principles of Christ have an especially easy time?"

What the world needs is more and more of the people who are bold enough to put the truths of Christ into practical operation and brave enough to commend themselves and their careers to those truths.

Christ was more than the Savior of the world or a figure on a crucifix; he was a philosopher and really taught the world the best method for people to get along together. We are a long way from finding this out.

Bible Thought For Today

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PRICE OF LEADERSHIP.

In every field of human endeavor, he that is first must perpetually live in the white light of publicity. Whether the leadership be vested in a man or in a manufactured product, emulation and envy are ever at work. In art, in literature, in music, in industry, the reward and the punishment are always the same. The reward is wide-spread recognition; the punishment, fierce denial and detraction.

When a man's work becomes a standard for the whole world, it also becomes a target for the shafts of the envious few. If his work be merely mediocre, he will be left severely alone.—if he achieve a masterpiece, it will set a million tongues a wagging. Jealousy does not protrude its forked tongue at the artist who produces a commonplace painting. Whatsoever you write, or paint, or play, or sing, or build, no one will strive to surpass you, or to slander you, unless your work be stamped with the seal of genius. Long, long, after a great work, or a good work has been done, those who are disappointed or envious, continue to cry out that it cannot be done.

Spiteful little voices in the domain of art were raised against our own Whistler as a mountebank, long after the big world had acclaimed him its greatest artistic genius. Multitudes flocked to Bayreute to worship at the musical shrine of Wagner, while the little group of those whom he had dethroned and displaced argued angrily that he was no musician at all. The little world continued to protest that Fulton could never build a steamboat, while the big world flocked to the river banks to see his boat steam by.

The leader is assailed because he is a leader, and the effort to equal him is merely added proof of that leadership. Failing to equal or to excel, the follower seeks to depreciate and to destroy—but only confirms once more the superiority of that which he strives to supplant.

There is nothing new in this. It is as old as the world and as old as the human passions,—envy, fear, greed, ambition and the desire to surpass. And it all avails nothing. If the leader truly leads, he remains —the leader. Master-poet, master painter, workman, each in his turn is assailed and each holds his laurels through the ages.

That which is good or great makes itself known, no matter how loud the clamor of denial. That which deserves to live—lives.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Autumn.

How many little failures marred
The year of toil?
What posies found this life too hard?
What barren soil
Felt beauty struggle and decay,
In early May?

Who stands too close beside the bed
Where zinnias bloom
Sees blended with the gold and red
The brown of doom?
Far off the garden seems so fair,
But failure's there.

Seen from the distance, every tree
Which autumn tints
Appears a perfect thing to be;
There are no hints
Of blundering or failure drear,
Till we draw near.

But standing close we view the scars
Of pain and strife
The cruel ugliness which mars
The way of life.
Even the trees, it seems, have tried
For dreams denied.

And so with man. The faults creep in
Despite his care,
The marks of suffering and sin
Are his to wear,
Then over years which intervene
But good is seen.

C. B. D. (CHARLES B. DRISCOLL)

TOO MUCH SYSTEM

During Jim Curry's first year in high school he decided that he was going to be a great short-story writer, in spite of his father's ambition to make a lawyer of him.

When Jim graduated from Harvard law school, he refused to enter any law office, but took a job as a newspeper reporter instead.

"I have been collecting short-story material and learning the technique of the thing for nine years," he said, "and now I'm going to get facts, characters and atmosphere first hand."

He reveled in police reporting. He wrote out reams of notes on the cases he handled, and filed them away in his growing filing system, all properly cross-indexed. Jim was a stickler for system. He bought all the books on short-story writing that he could find. His parents were wealthy, and they supplemented his salary with enough money to permit him to do justice to his ambition.

Throughout a long newspaper career, Jim kept notes, clipped papers and magazines, talked to writers, and studied the technique of the short story.

At the age of 60, Jim retired to look after his renting properties. There was a big party out at the big house on the hill to celebrate his retirement. But there was a heavy shadow over the party, and Jim told some of his intimate friends about it.

It seems that Mrs. Jim issued an ultimatum.

"Those filing cabinets have got to come out of the living room, and some of them must be removed from the dining room, too. We have no room here for guests."

"But," protested Jim, "the living room is full of 'crime' and the dining room has nothing but 'sea stuff' in it. You see, my story is going to have a crime at sea in it, and I've got to have the material systematically prepared!"

"Well," retorted Mrs. Jim, not ungently, "it's a crime the way the house has looked for years, and it's I who am at sea. Out it goes!"

And Jim, in something of a destructive rage, dumped two wagon loads of "crime" and "sea stuff" into the garage, thereby crowding out the family sedan. He was very much hurt and discouraged.

"I don't think I'll ever write a short story now," he said, gloomily.

Of course he won't!

Get Slight Clue As To Identity Of Man Killed

Police authorities here appear to have a clue as to the possible location of friends and relatives of Wade Taylor, said by the New York state troopers to have been killed in an automobile accident at Sidney, N. Y., Sunday and believed to have relatives here.

According to a local attorney who called upon the police after reading the notice in The News last night, this Wade Taylor was a former resident of this city and his client. He left here two years ago and located in Youngstown, O. The attorney furnished the police here with a Youngstown address and the Youngstown authorities have been asked to determine whether or not Wade Taylor was residing at that address recently.

Director's Meeting Postponed Week

Because of the activities of the Consistory at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Thursday October 20 the regular semi-monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has been postponed according to Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the chamber.

In all probability this meeting will be postponed until the next regular meeting time unless something of sufficient importance comes up in the interim to necessitate the calling of a special meeting.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Hoover Heights.

The young people's service of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle will be held this evening in the church at 7:30. The president, Mr. Bogle, will be in charge. There will be a special message in song by the young ladies.

The women's prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Tanner Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Children's meeting Friday after school.

There will be no service at the church Friday evening. The congregation will unite in the local young people's rally being held in the Gospel Tabernacle on Pearson street at 7:30.

Mabel Ryan Class.

Mabel Ryan Bible class of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Gospel tabernacle, Pearson street, will be entertained Wednesday evening October 19 at the home of William Alexander, 910 West Washington street.

Missionary Auxiliary.

Miss Sarah Thomas of Cascade street, entertained the members of the Young Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of Croton avenue Methodist church at her home last evening. Mrs. Richard Sisley of Grove City, was a special guest.

A missionary program was carried out in charge of Katherine Wilson. During the social hour lunch was served by the hostess assited by Leona Nowlin. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held the third Monday evening in November at the home of Mrs. Fred Beck of Walnut street.

Queen Esther Circle

Queen Esther Circle of Croton Avenue M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. C. R. Campbell of Dewey avenue, Monday evening. During the business meeting Alice Shuler and Dora Livesay were appointed delegates to attend the Missionary convention held on October 27-28 in the Epworth M. E. church of this city.

The following new members were received: Dora Livesay, Lillian Shellenberger, Florence Shingleton, Evelyn McClelland and Jemima Shuler. Miss Elma Wright was a special guest. A social time was enjoyed later.

Married People's Class

Married People's class of the Second United Presbyterian church will have a Hallowe'en party Friday evening at 7:45 in the church dining room. A short business meeting will be held at which time election of officers will take place.

Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will have their monthly meeting in the church parlor at 2:30, Thursday afternoon. An interesting program has been arranged for this meeting.

Father And Scout Banquet On Friday; Also Court Of Honor

The first Father and Scout banquet ever to be held by the Lawrence County Council of Boy Scouts of America will take place Friday evening, October 21, at 6:30 in the First M. E. church, corner of Jefferson and North streets.

Scout Commissioner John E. Dye and President of the Scout Leaders Club Ralph F. Davis, are in charge of the get together of Fathers and Scouts.

A fine menu has been prepared by the ladies of the First M. E. church and Lucius E. Wilson, president of the General Organization company of Chicago, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Court Of Honor.

Immediately following the dinner the court of honor session will be held in the Sunday School room, with Dr. C. J. Williamson presiding. All members of the Lawrence County Council will serve as members of the Court of Honor.

Under the direction of Prof. Hofmaster the Croton Band will furnish the music for the evening.

The following boys have completed tests and will receive badges at this meeting and it is the desire of the Scout Commissioner Dye that all the boys whose name are listed here be present with their father at the dinner and remain for the Court of Honor ceremony.

Some Of Scouts To Be Honored

Names of the scouts who will have badges awarded to them at the Court of Honor will be printed in sections, the first appearing today. After that, a section will appear each day until the list is concluded.

MISSIONARIES ARE FORCED TO LEAVE FIELD

(International News Service)

PEKING, Oct. 18.—Consul General Lockhart today reported the arrival at Hankow of a party of American women Methodist missionaries, led by Bishop Gross, on their way to Shanghai.

The party had attempted to reestablish a mission at Szo-Chuan but were forced to return when they found conditions in the upper Yangtse valley intolerable.

Lockhart also reported that the American Yangtse Rapid Steamship company was being forced by organized bandits to pay heavy bribes at every voyage.

Truck Driver Is Held On Charge Of Attacking Girl

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—John Hinton, 35, was held by police today in connection with an attack upon six-year-old Anna Brown late yesterday as she was returning home from school.

The little girl, in a serious condition, was found where she had been thrown from a truck.

The child said she had been stopped by the driver of the truck, who enquired the address of a family living near her home. He invited her to ride with him on the pretext of showing him the house.

After the truck had driven away, neighbors called police who arrested Hinton. He denied the charge, but was held.

When Food Disagrees

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat tickle, bronchial asthma, or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE LAST GUESS AND WRONG AGAIN

"Why, why, it's a baby!" stammered Peter. The queer creature nodded.

"Of course. Do you suppose I'd carry about a full-grown son? This little fellow is the youngest of my fifteen—he's not quite strong enough yet to hop out of my pocket and skip off with his brothers and sisters, but he will be in a day or so.

"And though he is the least of the lot, as far as size goes, he isn't far behind the rest when it comes to matching wits. In fact, none of my youngsters has been a bit cleverer.

"For shame, Bobby, to act like that! You never learned such manners from me!"

The mother had looked down and seen the saucy face her small son was making at the boy, and she smartly cuffed his ears with her paw.

Peter, however, scarcely noticed what she was doing. He was too busy thinking aloud.

"Carries her babies in her pocket," said he, over and over, looking closely at the creature before him.

"But your front paws aren't any shorter than your hind ones!" remarked Peter.

"Who said they were?" demanded the mother, shortly.

"Can you hop like this?" Peter got down on all fours and leaped about in front of the astonished creature.

"No, I can't, and, pray tell, why should I wish to? I can skip and I can run and I can swing by my tail. What you are doing looks very silly to me!"

"Then you are not a Kangaroo!" declared Peter, getting to his feet and staring at his companion. "I give it up. I don't know who you are."

Instead of telling him, the mother seemed to grow very angry at the boy's words.

With a low growl she sprang from the log and again wrapped her tail around the branch, and so suddenly was the spring she made that her little son, who had been leaning 'way out of the pocket, now lost his balance and tumbled to the ground.

HER LITTLE SON LOST HIS BALANCE AND TUMBLED TO THE GROUND.

Needle Lodged Inside Of Girl Several Months

PEMBERVILLE, Oct. 18.—Mary Ward, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Ward, here, and a senior in Heidelberg college at Tiffin, will carry a needle in her side for several months yet if complications do not arise.

She came home ill, suffering from a severe pain in her side. Her father thought at first she was suffering from appendicitis. An X-ray examination, however, revealed a needle lodged in the flesh.

The parents recalled that she had swallowed the needle when she was a child. Never before, however, had it caused her any discomfort.

Her father declared he did not expect any immediate ill effects from it, and Miss Ward will continue her studies at college so she may graduate with her class next spring.

Castle Council Banquet Event Wednesday Night

Over 200 reservations have been received by Ralph Snyder for the fifth anniversary celebration of Castle Council, 365, Jr. O. U. A. M., which will take place Wednesday evening, October 19.

The celebration will start with a dinner served at 6 o'clock, after which there will be a bazzaar and a ten act vaudeville show, all of local talent. Winding up the evening there will be a dance with the best orchestra in this section of the country furnishing the music.

Out of town guests are expected from York, Pa., Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia.

Mr. Snyder wishes all those who have not mailed in their reservations to do so, so that the committee will know how many to prepare for.

"It is fun run riot and to miss it is to miss one of the treats of the season."—Chicago Journal.

Do you realize that this great production and FIVE MORE world famous attractions are included in the SEASON TICKET which costs only $4.00, $5.00, $6.50, $8.00 or $10.00. No tax.

See The News for last Friday for detailed announcement of what the Season consists of.

POSSIBLY YOU WILL OVERLOOK THE FACT THAT A SEASON TICKET COVERS ALL CONCERTS WHICH RUN FROM NOVEMBER TO APRIL, SIX IN ALL. YOU PAY ONCE AND ARE THRU PAYING FOR THE SEASON. And those who know the merits of the great attractions on the course, will tell you that the season seat price is fifty to seventy five per cent less than that which is charged for series of similar magnitude in other cities.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD "NOT" TO HAVE A SEASON TICKET THOUGH YOU SHOULD HAVE TO MISS AS MANY AS "THREE" CONCERTS. Think this over and you will agree!

Suppose you attend three attractions sitting in the section which sells for the season at $8.00. Seats in this section will cost $2.50 for each individual number making a total of $7.50 for the three concerts you attend. FOR ONLY 50c MORE you can have a first choice seat in the $8.00 section which will enable you to give your tickets to friends for the three concerts WHICH YOU SUPPOSEDLY CANNOT ATTEND. In other words, by buying a season ticket you actually save $7.00 on the price of individual admissions in this particular section. Proportionate savings in all sections.

QUOTA CLUB TO PRESENT THIRD DOLL SHOW HERE

To Raise Fund For Benefit Of Crawford Oak Ridge Home For Girls

For the third consecutive year, the Quota Club is sponsoring a doll show with two important goals kept clearly in mind. The first show was held in New Castle Dry Goods Co. with the idea of promoting "doll spirit" and creating the desire among girls and boys to play with dolls.

This show was such a success that the club decided to hold one last year in the Scottish Rite Cathedral in order to accommodate the crowds and in connection with it and with the aid of local talent gave the delightful little musical comedy "Fifi." This year the show will be in the Scottish Rite Cathedral Friday evening, October 28, and Saturday afternoon October 29. With the display of dolls, the production, "Punchinello" will be given using the best talent the city affords.

The reports of the ticket sales are gratifying and the committee is looking forward to one of the most successful shows.

The ticket committee is captained by Mrs. Jos. Williams with the following sub-divisions:—Lillian Boyd's Brigade, Myra Ackerman's Aces, Dr. Roger's Regiment and Martha Bigley's Buglers.

Since the first show the work of Crawford Oakridge club has been taken up by the local girls. The club was recently opened to the public and the many who inspected it are aware of its worthy cause. The proceeds from the show will be applied to the fund for the upkeep of Crawford Oakridge.

Citizen's Night At Third U. P. Church

Will Be Observed This Evening With An Appropriate And Interesting Program

Citizen's Night will be observed this evening in the Third United Presbyterian church in connection with the post dedication services held during this week.

Among the prominent speakers of the city who will take part include Dr. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the First M. E. church will represent the Ministerial Association, Dr. C. C. Green, the New Castle schools, Dr. S. E. Irvene, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, the Beaver Valley Presbytery, W. T. Burns, city council, Fred L. Rentz, New Castle News, Senator George T. Weingartner, the state and Judge James A. Chambers, the law.

It is hoped that many of the citizens of this city will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending the meeting and looking over the handsome new church edifice. Boy Scouts will be stationed at every door and will show visitors throughout the entire building.

ORGAN RECITAL PROGRAM PLEASES

John A. Bell Of Pittsburgh Presents Program On New Third U. P. Organ

With the church comfortably filled, the pipe organ of the new Third United Presbyterian church was dedicated on Monday night with John A. Bell of Pittsburgh as the recitalist, assisted by Miss Margaret Spaulding, soprano, and Will A. Rhodes, Jr., tenor, both of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Bell is the organist of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh and an organist of real merit. Under his skillful handling of this splendid new organ its rich fullness was brought out, its versatility of combinations demonstrated, and the audience delighted with it throughout. His program included such numbers as would best bring out the delightful qualities of the organ, among them being works by Rossini, Aschaikowsky, and Widor.

Splendid Vocalists

Miss Spaulding the soprano has a most refreshing voice. Youthful and vibrant and almost birdlike in its upper tones, she sang her way into the hearts of her audience.

Mr. Rhodes is well known here for his radio work from Pittsburgh and more than lived up to his radio reputation. He has a powerful voice, withal a sweet one, and creditably acquitted himself.

The organ recital proved to the men and women present that it will not be necessary to come down town to hear good organ music. Like the Greer Memorial organ in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, it is a Moller organ and while not as large as the Greer organ, nevertheless it is quite large enough to fill the Third United Presbyterian church with a wonderful volume of sound.

Pays Fine For Assaulting Man

George Vlahos, wanted in connection with the assaulting of Ignats Kuis on September 26 on West Long avenue, when the latter sustained a severe wound on the head, as a result of which he was confined to the New Castle hospital for two weeks, appeared in police court this morning. He was assessed a fine of $25 on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

National Guard Is Our Best Defense, Says Col. MacNider

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18.—"The National Guard is taking on a new status in this country's defense structure. It represents our best effort to meet an emergency."

Col. Hanford MacNider, aviator and assistant secretary of war, made this statement during a recent visit to Cleveland. He is in charge of reserve corps and national guard work and has made an extensive trip in order to inspect national guard units in all parts of the country.

"Not only is the National Guard the most important part of our defense structure, but it is also a training school for the citizen," he declared. "It is a great university of American citizenship. I would like to see every youngster serve in the Guard ranks or the Reserve corps.

Battle Hard To Extinguish Fire Aboard Freighter

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 18.—With both crew and passengers fighting a raging fire in her freight hold, the Mallory line San Jacinto arrived in port here from Galveston today.

The fire was discovered Sunday morning, 12 hours after the liner had cleared the Texas port. Working in shifts the crew and passengers have since battled the flames. Bad weather encountered Sunday night and heavy seas added to the plight of the ship.

With heavy black smoke pouring from her forward holds where a shipment of cotton has been stored, there was no way today to ascertain to what extent the fire has made headway.

Perfect order was maintained by the passengers aboard ship, many of them joining with the crew in fighting the fire at sea.

Asks Heart Balm From Pastor For Stealing His Wife

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.— Heart balm suit for $25,000 instituted by John H. Foster, 38, against the Rev. Frank H. Griffith, 64, former leader of the Fifth Spiritualists Association here, will be continued today in Common Pleas court before Judge J. Willis Martin.

Foster charges he and a group of detectives and friends raided Griffith's apartment near Amber, on October 14, 1923, and there found the cult leader and Foster's wife, Augusta, 36. Both were convicted and fined $100 each.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

A new and wholesome dessert is a boon to any woman who is planning a good sized family dinner or one for guests. The dinner menu printed hereafter is a hearty one. The pear meringue might be made, I should think, with canned pears, omitting the first baking. It would be a good recipe to file if the family likes pears.

Rolled Rib Roast Yorkshire Pudding
Scalloped Eggplant Celery Hearts
Whole Wheat Bread Butter
Pear Meringue Coffee

Today's Recipes

Scalloped Eggplant—Dice eggplant after peeling and cook in a small amount of salted water. Use one-half cup of this water after the eggplant is cooked with one cup of milk to make a white sauce. Place a layer of cooked eggplant in a casserole, then a layer of white sauce until all is used. Sprinkle the top with buttered crumbs and brown in the oven.

Yorkshire Pudding— Sift together two cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt and one teaspoon baking powder. Beat together two eggs and one cup of milk. Stir the liquid in the above smoothly. Pour grease off the roast except one-half inch. Remove the roast and put the pudding in the pan having it about one-half inch thick. Bake.

Mayonnaise— Salad dressing or sauce originated in the province of Mayon, France.

SUGGESTIONS

A Clean Hearth.

To clean the brick fireplace put two cups of boiling water in a pan, adding four tablespoons of ammonia. With a soft clean scrubbing brush, brush down lightly several times with the solution, holding the pan under to catch what water you can, then immediately brush down or rinse with clean hot water and after the bricks dry you will find them like new.

Hemming Curtains

When putting the hems in curtains if you loosen the tension to your sewing machine when stitching them you will find it a great help in case you ever want to alter them. The stitches look as well as when tighter and are much easier to remove.

Britten Favors Cruiser Program, To Sponsor Move

Ranking Member Of House Naval Affairs Committee Urges Cruiser Building.

PLAN TO ELEVATE UNITED STATES NAVY

Will Go Before Congress Urging Enactment Of Five-Year Program.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A five-year building program designed to bring the American navy up to parity with the British, and involving the construction of thirty new cruisers, will be proposed early in the new congress by Rep. Fred A. Britten (R) of Illinois, he announced upon his arrival here after four months in Europe.

Britten is the ranking members of the house naval affairs committee, and led the successful revolt against President Coolidge in the last session, which resulted in the appropriation for three new cruisers. He has spent the summer aboard.

"This five year program," said Rep. Britten, "is the least we can do, and there is no doubt in my mind but that congress will enact it. I believe the general board of the navy will go even further after receiving the confidential reports from our Geneva representatives.

"The Geneva naval conference failed because the American representatives refused to be British patriots and would not agree to build for the United States the kind of cruisers best adapted to the uses of the British empire.

"European statesmen do not hesitate to say that Great Britain's place in the sun can only be regained by a war in which America is made to suffer great losses in wealth and man power, and that British statesmen are calmly awaiting the day when they can assist, directly or indirectly, in pulling America from the predominant position we have acquired since the world war.

Supremacy Firm.

"In London it is quite evident that no nation will ever be permitted to successfully challenge British sea supremacy. American equality is unthinkable in England. It will require another generation before the slow-moving Britisher is convinced of our industrial and political importance. British refusal to agree on sea equality at Geneva is positive evidence that she regards us as a prospective enemy or future foe. British diplomacy is not only far sighted but expressive of British public opinion, and there is nothing for America to do but proceed in a sane and deliberate manner to maintain a proper national defense.

"Great Britain has 54 cruisers, totalling 332,290 tons, built and building; Japan has 25 cruisers, totalling 156,205 tons; America has 18 cruisers, totalling 145,000 tons, built and building. In fast merchant ships capable of conversion to cruisers carrying six inch guns England has a supremacy over us in the ratio of 17 to 1, and over Japan a supremacy of 90 to 1.

With the shameful result of the Geneva conference still fresh in our minds surely the coming congress will authorize a cruiser building program commensurate with proper protection of American commerce, wealth and world prestige.

"Before the Geneva conference failed President Coolidge requested congress to authorize ten additional cruisers. In the face of British suspicions it would not be unreasonable for congress now to adopt a five year building program calling for the construction of two airplane carriers and thirty cruisers of the most modern type by 1933. This program would insure a well-balanced navy, irrespective of what Great Britain and Japan might do during that period."

Rushing Season In College Frats

Bidding To Start On October 20 —Pledging To Last Through October 22

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18.—No radical changes have been made in the regulations concerning the annual fraternity rushing activities according to an announcement made by President W. Charles Wallace at the morning chapel services yesterday.

Fraternity eating arrangements at present functioning on the rotation plan, will conclude Thursday October 20 at the noon meal. The rules adopted restrict entertainment of freshmen to New Wilmington only.

The regulations divide the rushing activities into three periods, a bidding time, a silent period and a pledging time. Bidding will begin October 20 at 2 p. m. and end Friday, October 21 at the same hour of the day. The silent period starts at 2 p. m. October 21 and extends to 7:45 a. m. Saturday October 22. Pledging will get under way at the conclusion of the silent period and last until midnight Saturday October 22. Appointments with the yearlings will cover a period of half an hour with reappointments in order at intervals of two and one half hours.

Campus Cherry Tree Is In Full Bloom

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—The campus of the Lutheran Theological Seminary here has taken on a springtime appearance, with a cherry tree in full bloom.

Rev. Dr. A. R. Wentz, near whose home the tree is blossoming, hopes to have fresh sour cherry pie on his table for Thanksgiving dinner.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

What appeared to be rather a big piece of work to many who had been watching the erection of the structural steel on the First National bank building at the corner of Washington and Mercer streets, has proven a little job to those in charge. The problem to the spectators was how the immense steel crane would be removed when the steel work was up. The crane stood a hundred feet high. It has been removed by the simple process of taking it apart and removing it a piece at a time.

The only interesting thing for the spectators now watching the construction of the building is the work of the rivetters as they move back and forth across the superstructure. The immense steel beams are all in place.

New Castle citizens and visitors will certainly applaud the action of the city health department and sanitary police officers in reviving the campaign to require all employes of restaurants and eating places to have recent health certificates. While in probably a large majority of establishments conditions are proper and correct, yet there are some now and then that need the urge of the law. Too much care cannot be paid to conditions where the public is being served food and drink.

Westminsterites Meet In Reunion

Entertain College Head At Gathering In Philadelphia Hotel

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18—Last Friday President W. Charles Wallace, Westminster college head, attended the annual synod meeting of this area held in Philadelphia. While there the Westminster college president was the guest of honor at a luncheon party in the Hotel Pennsylvania given by several alumni of the Blue and White institution, including Littell, '95, Joe McFate, New Castle lad of the class of '26, Frank Morretti, '27, also of New Castle and Charles Wallace, '26, son of the college head. The last three mentioned are attending the Pennsylvania University School of Law.

Next Monday, October 24 President Wallace will leave for Washington, Pa., to meet with the church senate of Pittsburgh and speak in behalf of the district synod. This session of the senate will commence Tuesday October 25 extending over a two day period and will be held in the First United Presbyterian church, pastorate of Dr. Hubert Ferguson, son of Robert Gracey Ferguson, former Westminster president.

Chestnut Trees In County Are Passing

Blight And The Woodman's Ax Play Havoc With One-Time Yield Of Nuts

Hallowe'en in years past was an event marked by the use of chestnuts in many of the games played by the young people, but this year there will be no chestnuts. Lawrence county chestnuts trees are fast joining the ranks of the dodo bird and in a few years will be extinct. A ride through the county at the present time shows scores of chestnut trees with bare limbs and gnarled trunks as a result of the blight. There may be a few chestnuts this year in some isolated spots, but the nuts will be few and far between.

The chestnut blight began to assail the trees of this state several years ago and for a time it was thought that Pennsylvania would escape its ravages. The blight came from the New England states and swept through eastern Pennsylvania, the Western section of the state escaping for a time. However, the blight has entered the forests of the western part of Pennsylvania and the Federal Forestry Department is cutting all of the chestnut trees in the Allegheny National forest, and the State Forestry department is advising the farmers to cut their chestnut trees and sell them while they are still marketable.

Thus it will be seen that in a few years the chestnut will be extinct due not only to the ravages of the blight among the trees, but also to the woodman's axe which will remove the trees spared by the blight.

Opinions Differ On Injunction Effect

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—The decision of the U. S. supreme court in the famous "Red Jacket" case of West Virginia, today revealed a wide difference of opinion here in its relation to the injunction sought by the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation.

Spokesmen for the Terminal corporation insisted the "Red Jacket" injunction sustained by the highest court, was almost identical with the one sought by the Terminal corporation.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers, on the other hand, stated there was a vast difference between the two suits. Unionists stated even the question of jurisdiction was different in the Terminal case.

PITTSBURGH FIRE CAPTAIN IS DEAD

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Funeral arrangements were made today for Capt. Harry O'Toole, who died from the effects of injuries received in Pittsburgh's million dollar fire yesterday.

O'Toole received a fractured skull when caught by falling bricks as a section of wall caved in during the conflagration.

PREACHING HARMONY IN COAL MARKET

(International News Service)

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Oct. 18.—Leaving nothing to chance in their efforts to insure the success of the gigantic Anthracite Cooperative convention to be held here Nov. 9-10 and 11, "flying squadrons" of the Mount Carmel chamber of commerce are visiting widely separated parts of the country.

Preaching the gospel of harmony in the Anthracite market, members of the squadrons are visiting Chicago, Detroit, Toronto and Buffalo. Others visited Washington, New York and Philadelphia.

The boosters are also making a survey of the Anthracite market. One delegation went to New York to secure broadcasting facilities for the convention, and to invite International News reel and other movie concerns to send representatives to the conference.

Names Assistant District Attorney In Mercer County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 18.—For the first time in Mercer county's recent history, the county has an assistant district attorney. Attorney Leo McKay of Sharon, Republican party nominee for district attorney, was appointed an assistant district attorney by District Attorney L. R. Rickard and sworn in this morning.

The appointment gives Mr. McKay a chance to become familiar with the work of the district attorney's office, and in the event that he is elected in November, will give him an excellent start on his new duties.

U. S. Buys Hospital For War Veterans

DENVER, Oct. 18.—The grounds of the Fitzsimmons General hospital for war veterans here, consisting of 600 acres, has been "sold, conveyed, remised and released" to the United States of America for the sum of $10.

The people of the city of Denver subscribed $150,000 to the project in 1918 during the world war. Construction of Fitzsimmons General hospital was started immediately and has grown to immense proportions, now being the largest military hospital in the world, also the largest tuberculosis sanitarium in the United States.

When the institution was erected the government demanded only a 99-year lease to the ground upon which the hospital was located. A change in policy evidently has been made, however, in that ownership of the site is the only condition upon which financial aid will continue to be extended by the government.

There is one "string" attached to the sale, however. At the time money was being raised for the purchase of the land, subscribers were protected to the extent that if ever the site should cease to be used by the government as an army recuperation camp, all subscriptions would be returned.

Women Must Use Regular Smokers

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 18.—Train officials and passengers on a westbound Erie train recently were inconvenienced when they discovered that the door of one of the rest rooms in the chair car was locked and resisted all efforts to open it. The conductor on the train was appealed to and he opened the door with his private key. He was very much amazed to find that three young girls had taken possession of the room and were using it as a smoking room and had barred it to all other passengers. The three girls were puffing away vigorously at cigarettes and were quite crestfallen when they were ordered to go forward to the smoking car if they must smoke on their journey.

Train officials have announced that women who desire to smoke on trains are expected to go forward to the smoking car the same as the men.

MAY ASK CITY TO HIRE NURSE

Neither City Or County Of Lawrence Has Nurse On Duty

Although it was indicated by a member of city council recently that no successor to Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, city nurse, would be employed, reports received today state that agitation soon will be started to have council employ a city nurse.

When the city had charge of the New Castle district of the poor the nurse's duties were many. When the county of Lawrence assumed control of the district of the poor the position was continued and the nurse's duty included welfare work. Recently Mrs. Davis resigned and her position became vacant October 15.

The County of Lawrence does not employ a nurse, it is reported and according to a report obtained today club women here propose asking the city of New Castle to continue the position. It is not known what attitude council will take. In the meanwhile it is probable that the Red Cross and welfare nurses will do the work which had been performed by Mrs. Davis.

Autoists Disregard Water Street Rule

One Way Traffic Regulation Disregarded By Some Motorists

Probabilities are that traffic patrolmen and motorcycle policemen will cast an "eagle eye" in Water street where drivers have been disobeying the "one way" regulation. Autoists have been journeying north in Water street contrary to the "don't enter" sign at Water and South Mill streets.

It is also likely that the police authorities soon will place signs forbidding southern travel on the East street hill owing to the numerous accidents during wet weather and the winter season when the hill is coated with ice.

Blast Damages Ohio Coal Mine

Estimate Loss Of Between $35,000 And $50,000 To United States Coal Company

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 18. — A dynamite explosion of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at between $35,000 and $50,000 to a mine owned by the United States Coal Company at Bradley, 18 miles south of this city, according to word reaching the sheriff's office here today.

The blast occurred late last night, but owing to telephone lines being down, reports were delayed until this morning. No one was injured.

The mine had not been operating but several men had been working during the day, making preparations to resume mining.

Sheriff Allison is investigating.

PEEPING TOM BEING SOUGHT

A "Peeping Tom" was busy throughout the southern part of the city last night and kept the city police on the jump for some time trying to locate and apprehend him.

He was first reported to be peeping in the windows at 107 West Sharp street, then at the Deaconess Home at 106 Phillips street. About the same time it was reported that a suspicious man was stopping women at Pollock avenue and Reynolds street. And the last call was to East Washington street and Ray street, where a man was reported peeping in windows and acting in a very suspicious manner.

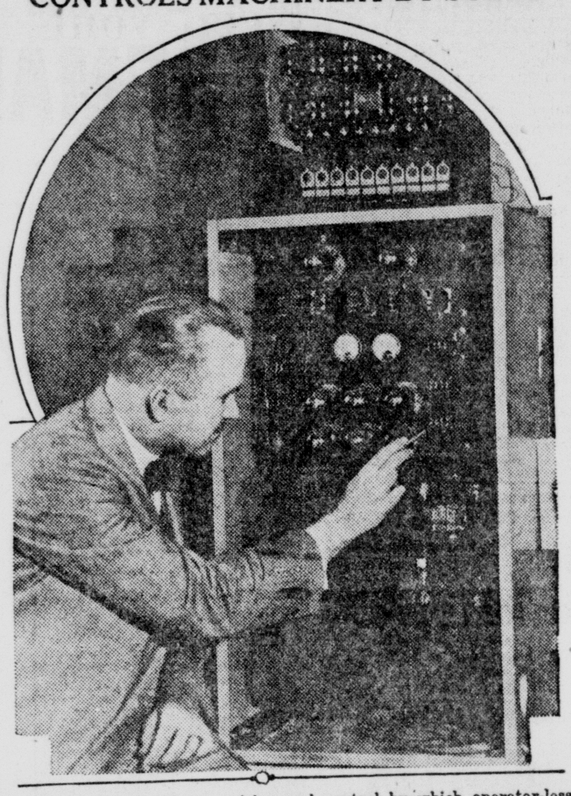
CONTROLS MACHINERY BY SOUND



A new system of supervision and control by which operator-less machinery can be called on the telephone, asked questions and given instructions, has just been demonstrated in the offices of a New York electric company. The arrangement, called the "televocal" system, is the invention of R. I. Wensley, left, electrical engineer. By means of this sound control system he believes machines can be regulated many miles away. The device is shown above.

Rev. Leichliter At Central Church

First Services Of Series Held During The Week Under Auspices Of City Mission

First meeting of a series of special services which will be conducted during the week under the supervision of the City Rescue Mission was held Monday evening in Central Presbyterian church.

Rev. George A. Leichliter, pastor of the Prospect Avenue Baptist church of Buffalo, N. Y., was the speaker of the evening and delivered a most interesting and timely sermon.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the church, presided and prayer was offered by Rev. [illegible] and Rev. D. C. Schnebly. Special features of the evening were selections by the choir of the Epworth M. E. church under the direction of the chorister, W. R. Short, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Anna Pyle, and a duet number by Rev. Leichliter and Peter Quarter. For the song service Mrs. Johnston Fisher presided at the organ and Mrs. Lester Miller at the piano.

At the chapel exercises this morning in the senior high school Rev. Leichliter gave a short talk and Mr. Quartel sang.

Services will begin this evening with a song service at 7:30.

"SHARPSVILLE" JUMPS TRACK

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18.—Morning train on the Sharpsville railroad jumped the track about a mile south of New Wilmington this forenoon.

The train consisted of one freight car and one passenger car with the locomotive. The rails evidently spread and the locomotive left the track.

No one was hurt or injured, but traffic on the line is tied up until the track can be repaired.

The railroad is owned by the Baltimore and Ohio company and combination passenger trains are run between Sharpsville and Wilmington Junction. It was on the southbound trip to the junction that the accident happened.

Salvation Theme Of Fine Message

Good Attendance Welcomed Evangelist Monday Evening At Nazarene Church

At the revival meetings being held in the Church of the Nazarene, last night, Rev. Redmon, the evangelist, gave a very stirring sermon from the text: "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Heb. 2:3. This message really gripped the hearts of the hearers. His subject dealt mainly with the word "Salvation." He showed so plainly and simply how great a salvation the Gospel of Jesus Christ provided.

A good attendance for Monday night welcomed the evangelists and a good spirit was felt throughout the entire service. Rev. and Mrs. Redmon sang a duet number, "How Glad I Am." The orchestra rendered a selection as an offertory, "Jesus Calls Us." Rev. Mrs. Redmon will be the speaker this evening, and they will both sing again. The service will begin at 7:30.

Musical Program At Lion's Meeting

Members of the Lion's club enjoyed a musical program at the regular weekly noon-day meeting on Tuesday October 18 at the Elks club. R. E. Glass Workers Settle Strike

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—The Window Glass Cutters and Flatteners Association of America has settled its wage dispute with the manufacturers and returned to work on the old scale it was announced at the union headquarters here today.

The wage scale set was similar to the one adopted by the American Window Glass Cutters and Flatteners Protective Association in their dispute with the American Window Glass Company.

The scale provides for an increase in wages in proportion to any increase in the price of glass. In the event of a decrease in the price of glass the workmen's wages will be decreased accordingly.

Settlement of the strike affects virtually every glass factory in the nation where machine methods are not used.

City To Build Sanitary Sewer

Sections Will Be Laid In Several Seventh Ward Streets

Two ordinances were introduced when members of city council convened in formal session at the city building Tuesday. The measures were sent to committee, considered then reported forth with favorable action and dispatched to the city printer.

One ordinance provides for the construction of sanitary sewers in Liberty street between Main street and Tremont avenue with branches in Ashland avenue, Wayne and Montgomery avenue.

The other ordinance dealt with transfer of monies not appropriated to funds which have run low.

Councilmen Unable To Provide Funds To Purchase Airport

City Solicitor Robert White today, informally, told members of council that "if the city feels there will be a necessity, the city can buy land in the county for airport purposes." The city's legal adviser, however, said: "I do not believ we can buy on time as this would increase the city's indebtedness." The opinion was not given during councilmanic meeting but after solons had adjourned.

Monday a chamber of commerce urged city council to take steps to secure land for airport purposes and during the afternoon members of the commerce body and council inspected two sites, one north and the other east of the city. The chamber committee which previously investigated sites recommended the site north but said the eastern site was also available.

The latter site had been recommended by Lieut. Oakley Kelly when he made an aerial inspection. He had not studied the northern site because at that time it was not included in the available land list.

Today it was intimated that the site east of the city would be the best for an airport field. The site north of the city, it was reported is uneven and would have to be levelled off. Several trees would be removed from the site east of the city. It was also explained today during the "round the table" discussion that should a purchase be made it would be necessary for the expenditure of money to put either of the grounds in condition. The eastern site is near a "hard road" and it was intimated that were the northern site purchased it would be necessary to fix a new road.

Funds Unavailable

But the big question is finance.

Councilmen admit that at the present time their hands are tied. They stated today, informally, that "we are going to be up against it for funds next year."

One member of council said that he believed that all available money could best be spent in the city, adding: "We would be in a poor position to ask for money to spend outside the city."

Solicitor White who met with the councilmen in the "round the table" session advised that: "If you spend money, it should be spent for improvements, such as are necessary on streets."

"What benefit would the field be to the mill men?" asked D. O. Davies, who is not opposed to the move but who believes that finances now and probably during 1928, will be short.

Councilman Louis Genkinger, an ardent supporter of aviation, as are other members of council, suggested that land necessary might be secured through popular subscription with the aid of civic clubs.

"I feel that this is an economical question," said Solicitor White. "If I want anything bad enough I'll pay for it myself. "By this he meant, a firm which wanted a field, would buy it.

In other words White explained that when the time does arrive that commerce needs a field here the 'airline' which would benefit sufficiently would be willing to pay for land.

Find New Site

At this juncture Councilman Lou Genkinger stated "I know of a farm, approximately eight miles from the city which can be bought for less money than either the northern or eastern sites."

"If a bridge is built over the Neshannock river at North street you could receive mail from the eastern site at the local postoffice within 10 minutes," said Councilman Davies.

When Solicitor Robert White gave it as his belief that the proper place for an airport would be along the Ellwood-New Castle highway, Genkinger declared: "Land prices there are prohibitive."

According to the trend of the conversation during the informal meeting all members of council favors an airport field but cannot, as yet see where they can get the money to buy land.

Councilman Genkinger believes that it would be wise to act soon as he believes that aviation is making wonderful strides and he does not want the city to be caught without an available site.

But the bugaboo of many worthy proposed enterprises—finance— like the slender wolf at the door of an empty barn, confronts solons and the opinion exists that:—

If the city is to secure a field for airport purposes the site cannot be purchased for a year or two unless the money is raised by popular subscriptions, to which all councilmen promised to contribute.

Grid Players At Franklin And Marshall Go Out On Strike

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 18.—Members of the Franklin and Marshall football team, who went on strike yesterday, in protest against the demotion of Head Coach Ken Shroyer to Freshman coach, today were to meet with the college athletic board in an effort to settle the difficulty.

Thirty-three members of the squad refused to continue their practice yesterday when it was learned that Charles Mayser, head of the physical education department, had succeeded Shroyer as coach. The change was believed to have been due to Franklin and Marshall's poor showing against Ursinus Saturday when they lost 32 to 7.

Captain Mike Lewis of the varsity team met with other members of the squad, and it is believed that Lewis will present the players' case to the board today.

Shroyer's popularity with the students brought an organized protest when his demotion became known.

Friends of the coach saw a possibility that the move would be reconsidered after the conference, scheduled for late today.

FLYING BABIES TAKE AIR SPIN

Because nursery tales of flying witches riding straw brooms; of gallant Arabian Knights soaring on magic carpets; and of Pegasus, the winged horse, always enthralled them, Betty Byrne, 8, and her sister Ann, 3, begged their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Byrne, of Memphis, Tenn., to let them go for a ride in a "flying auto." She consented and now the children, after a 20-minute spin with Aviator Jess Windham, are Memphis' first flying babies.

Newspaperman Is Called By Death

Harry S. Morningwake, Well Known Central Pennsylvania Reporter Dies

(International News Service)

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 18.—Harry S. Morningwake, 31, one of Central Pennsylvania's best known younger newspapermen, died at his home here today. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

Morningwake first served on the Shamokin News, and was later assistant manager of the Harrisburg Bureau of International News Service. He was a member of the staff of the Mount Carmel News for a time, and then returned to International News Service as manager of the Central Pennsylvania Bureau. He later joined the staff of the Shamokin Dispatch, and remained with that newspaper until his illness forced him to give up his duties early this summer.

Morningwake was a World war veteran, he was affiliated with several lodges here.

His condition, which forced him to give up active newspaperwork in June grew rapidly worse, until he was removed to Sunbury hospital this fall.

The widow, his mother, a brother and a sister survive.

Postponement Of Remus Insanity Hearing Granted

Allow Counsel For Remus More Time To Establish Insanity Defense

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—The insanity hearing of George R. Remus, erstwhile "king of bootleggers", under indictment here for the first degree murder of his wife, was postponed one week, from Oct. 31 to Nov. 7, by Judge Chester R. Shook in common pleas court here today.

The postponement was granted on motion of Remus' attorney, Charles Elston, who said additional time would be required to obtain necessary affidavits bearing upon Remus' mental condition.

Elston entered a formal plea of insanity for Remus at today's session, and Judge Shook, in granting the delay, which was agreed to by the county prosecutor, declared that under no circumstances would further delay be granted to Remus.

It was announced that Elston and County Prosecutor Charles P. Taft and his aide, Carl Basler, together with a court stenographer, who will act as commissioner, would leave for Atlanta, Chicago, New York, Cleveland and other cities to obtain affidavits for use by the defense.

Probe Smuggling Of Opium Into United States

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—U. S. Treasury agents today continued their investigation into smuggling of opium into this country following the seizure of more than $100,000 worth of contraband in a trunk in the baggage room of Broad Street station.

Agents say the smugglers have a well organized system of distribution and sale and have representatives in virtually every part of the country. The probe was started when a Washington phpsician committed suicide by leaping from a sanitarium window after being involved in the plot. Quantities of the drugs were reported seized in New York and Washington at the same time.

HAS DIVORCE, BUT MUST PAY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, of the domestic relations branch of the Philadelphia municipal court, has handed down a decision that a divorce in another state does not relieve a husband of a support order in Pennsylvania if the wife refused to accept the jurisdiction of the court which granted the divorce. The case was that of Mrs. Elizabeth Kaplan to restore a court order of $9 a week made in December, 1924, against her husband, Jack Kaplan. Kaplan obtained his divorce at Reno, Nevada, November 16, 1925, on the ground of "extreme cruelty," and when he was brought into court here by Mrs. Kaplan on an attachment to pay arrearages in her support order, the decree of divorce was presented by Kaplan's counsel.

Open Grate Is Cause Of Death

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 18.—Reca McWhorters, the four - year - old daughter of Raymond McWhorters, of this city, died in Bethesda hospital from burns sustained when her clothing ignited from an open grate. The child was alone at the time but the mother and neighbors were attracted by its cries of agony. Police took the child to the hospital where death ensued within two hours. The parents and several brothers and sisters survive.

One Killed And Two Hurt In Crash

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 18.—One man was killed and two others were injured in an automobile crash just outside of Waterford, Pa., when a car which was being driven to Erie sideswiped a heavily laden meat truck. Frank Wolf, Jr., 20, of Union City, died in a local hospital here of a fractured skull. Donald Shreve, of Union City, is in a hospital here quite badly hurt, while George Michel, of Union City, was treated at a doctor's office.

Contagion At Low Ebb In New Castle

There were only eight cases of contagious illness reported to the city health department during September, according to a report to be presented by Dr. William L. Steen, health officer, to council.

There were three cases of diphtheria, three of typhoid fever, one of whooping cough and one fatality resulted from infantile paralysis.

EDERLE THANKS HOAX EXPOSER

Cables Englishwoman On Recent Channel Swim Episode

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—Gertrude Ederle, first woman to swim the English Channel, has cabled Dr. Dorothy Logan, of England, commending the latter's sportsmanship in revealing her fake channel swim.

The cablegram sent to Dr. Logan in care of the news of the World, London, said:

"Your channel episode and expose has rendered me a personal service for which I am truly grateful and I commend your sportsmanship in revealing."

Miss Ederle is filling a theatrical engagement here.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The hoax channel swim of Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan, London physician, has provided Parisians a good laugh.

Some attempts since 1924 that were accepted by the rest of the world as having been successful are regarded by experts in swimming matters here with extreme suspicion. The crossing of Gertrude Ederle and that of Mrs. Amelia Corson, are beyond a shadow of doubt, the experts said.

The most curious thing in the world is the woman who isn't.

Community Chest Aids Margaret Henry Home

Under the personal direction of five women, three of whom are mothers with families of their own, 53 orphaned and dependent kiddies are being raised in a worthy manner that they may take their place in the community as respectable citizens. This work is being done at the Margaret Henry home, near the Ben Franklin Junior High school.

Clean warm beds, good wholesome food, and tender care, very nearly approximating a mother's is given to these homeless children. The giant family, for family it is, contains 22 boys and 31 girls. Thirty eight of these attend school regularly and must be properly clothed and kept in good physical condition to enable them to carry on their school work. Fifteen of these kiddies are too young to attend school, and so they remain at the home, where they are given the best of care and attention. It is a big task, and requires a big heart.

In addition to this daily care, each child attends the church of their belief, and another task for the women is to get the children ready for Sabbath school and church. The girls are taught all kinds of house work, such as cooking, sewing, washing and ironing. In every way possible, these little tots, dependent on the citizens of New Castle, are given the same opportunities as are the children in the community who are more fortunate and not become drifting derelicts. And the Margaret Henry home reaps the benefit of the assistance that the community gives to the Chest Fund.

Quite a number of these children are placed in the homes of citizens through the Children's Aid Society, the Juvenile Officers, and Catholic Charities.

Board of directors for the home is: David S. Pyle, Pres., C. L. McMillen, Sec'y., M. Feuchtwanger, Vice Pres., John C. Taggart, Treasurer, S. Plummer Emery, Rufus Patterson, Sam Klafter, A. C. Hoyt, G. G. Stitzinger, Thomas W. Dickey, Chas. C. Robingson, Jos. Hannon, and P. J. Flaherty.

Garbage Heavy During September

Five Hundred Tons Of Garbage Collected And Burned Here

Five hundred tons of garbage were collected and burned at the New Castle incinerator during the month of September, according to a report of Howard Phillips to Health Officer W. L. Steen and Councilman D. O. Davies.

The work was done by employes of the garbage department who collect the cans from yards, and after placing them in the trucks, take them to the incinerator where other employes burn the refuse.

But the 500 tons collected was not all the garbage for the month as 100 loads were removed from various places by non-city employes and refuse filling 200 barrels was collected by individuals, to be used in feeding swine in outlying districts.

Another duty of the city garbage department employes is that of collecting dead canines and felines and of the former 22 and of the latter 4 were collected and burned at the incinerator.

German Plane Lands At Lisbon

(International News Service)

LISBON, Oct. 18.—The German Heinkel seaplane, D-1230 arrived here at 9:45 a. m. today from Vigo, Spain. After taking on supplies, Pilot Hortz Merz will take off for the Azores on his way to New York. If weather conditions are satisfactory, he will not stop at the Azores but will continue across the ocean to America.

STATE POTATO CROP IS LOW

Will Be Fourteen Million Bushels Below Average

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—With an average crop of potatoes forecasted for the United States, the late potato crop in the northeastern section of the country, which includes the important sources of Pennsylvania supplies, will be more than fourteen million bushels below the average crop of the past five years and over seven million bushels less than last year, according to October 1st estimates.

In Pennsylvania, the crop is estimated at 22,237,000 bushels, or slightly more than in 1926. The estimates also indicate that New York State will show a small decrease from last year with this year's crop of 28,350,000 bushels. Maine, an increasingly important source of Pennsylvania supplies in recent years, will this year produce 32,035,000 bushels or almost five million less than last year.

The harvest in the central states which include, among others, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, will be about ten million bushels more than a year ago. However, Michigan, quite a heavy shipper into western Pennsylvania, will harvest about 6,000,000 less than in 1926. Rather general increases west of the Mississippi river, especially in Idaho, counteract eastern losses, which make the United States crop about average.

The Pennsylvania crop is of good quality. Although there has been a state-wide decline in condition during September, owing principally to late blight and rot, most of the loss has been sustained in the field, decreasing the possibility of storage losses.

Pennsylvania consumers who buy their winter supply now are advised by the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, to secure, for most satisfaction, potatoes which have been well graded and have come from fields thoroughly sprayed during the growing season.

More Local Drivers Forfeit Licenses

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18. — Resumption of court sessions after the summer recess is reflected in the large number of automobile license revocations and blacklistings made public today by the state department of highways.

There were fifty-four license revocations and nineteen names were placed on the prohibitory list during the week.

Thirty of the revocations and twelve of the blacklistings were caused by intoxication. Despite the large number of revocations only six were for reckless driving.

Eight Pittsburgh men were included in the list of fifteen who lost their licenses because of larceny of automobiles. They were Edward Laszkiewicz, James Masonoski, Earnest Ford, Edward Jones, Norman Cook, Doc Fehery, Clyde Trevis and Foster Thornton.

Included in the list for intoxication were Herbert M. Fulton, Stephen Cegelka and John F. Lynch, all of New Castle; Harold H. Nelson, Oil City, and Frank Frutchey, Stroudsburg.

Edward T. Gorman, of Allentown, was among those who lost licenses for reckless driving.

HOME PLACE FOR WOMEN, SHE DECLARES

(International News Service)

Hagerstown, Oct. 18.—Home is the best place for women. That is the way Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, wife of the inventor, tells about this runabout age.

Flappers' bobbed hair and short skirts are "a passing phase," she said on a recent visit.

Despite the fact her husband's inventions have ushered in a new era in mechanics, Mrs. Edison feels that mechanical progress tends to rob life of a human touch.

Mrs. Edison smilingly denied the old story that her husband, absorbed in an invention, forgot to take her along on his wedding trip.

Traveling with Mrs. Edison were Mrs. Halbert K. Hitchcock, and Mrs. Hugh Rodman, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Garrett Smith, of Nyack, N. J.

Composite of American ideals: A young man, able to cope with great problems, standing with his arm about his mother.

Robins Furniture Co. Are Exclusive Agents for Berkey & Gay Furniture

Our Berkey & Gay Suites are Moderately Priced

IN its 75 years, the Berky & Gay Furniture Company of Grand Rapids, Michigan, has achieved an important place in the furniture industry. Makers of bedroom and dining room suites, Berkey & Gay has grown in the 75 years from an obscure cabinet shop to an organization employing upwards of 3,000 people and using resources of all the world.

The amazing growth of this Company, however, has not impaired the ideals that prevailed in the original small shops. The same ideals of design excellence and constructional soundness are everywhere evident in the fine Berkey & Gay plants, which include thirty acres of working space. Carvers still work with the chisel and maul, and artists still execute painted decoration with palette and brush. Here, ancient ideals are jealously guarded. During 1926 a Berkey & Gay suite was produced every 4 and one-half minutes. This made the consumption something over 25 million feet of lumber.

These few facts can serve only to suggest the immensity of this one industry. A visit to any one of the plants is a fascinating adventure. From the unloading docks; through the great caverns where are stored crude bundles of choice, rare woods collected from remote countries; through the battery of dry kilns; through the overpowering din of the cutting rooms; and so, on to the relaxed quiet of the decorative studios—there is romance for you at every turn. Likewise, an hour or two in the showrooms where are displayed for one's delectation, room groups of finished bedroom and dining room suites. This, too, would be a fascinating adventure. Period styles, adapted to modern use, fashioned from myriad woods, are there to invoke the best and to bequeath the artistic achievement of the centuries of our generation.

Important to add, this Berkey & Gay furniture may be seen on the floors of the Robins Furniture Company, Berkey & Gay's representative in New Castle.

Most Important To Have Dry President Declares Dr. Francis Scott McBride

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—After all, what difference does it make whether our next president is a dry or a wet? The country's dry by constitution and by act of congress. The president's sworn to uphold the one and enforce the other, whatever his personal ideas may be.

You hear this proposition advanced quite frequently.

But a great many people seem to think it does make a decided difference whether the next president is wet or dry.

Why?

Probably the best answer to our question is to be found in the views of Anti-Saloon league workers in Washington, who certainly can be regarded as representative drys.

Before his death, Wayne B. Wheeler had outlined for the league plans intended to guarantee a bone-dry president for the 1929-33 term. He evidently thought it mattered. F. Scott McBride, Dr. Wheeler's successor, at least "pro tem", is overlooking no bets to see that the Wheeler program is carried out to the last detail. He thinks it matters, too.

Having found out how the drys feel about it, we can easily determine how the wets must feel, by simply turning the drys' reasoning exactly around.

Suppose we do have a president who, though wet in his individual sympathies, nevertheless means to enforce the law. He may go through the motions, but it isn't to be expected that he'll have much heart in them.

His secretary of the treasury, at the head of all federal enforcement machinery, and his attorney general, in charge of all prosecutions under the prohibition act, presumably will be officials like their chief. Besides, as we proceed downward from the White House, in the direction of the departments, we shall find that a little additional enthusiasm has oozed out.

Treasury and justice departmental underlings—assistants, field agents, district attorneys, marshals and the like—will sense their superiors' indifference and their activities will be perfunctory at best—not to mention out-and-out "black sheep".

All these officials are presidential appointees.

So are the federal judges of the district and circuit courts, of whom many, out of considerably more than 100 on the bench, are named by every president.

A magistrate who regards violations of a certain law with a lenient eye is unlikely to deal out severe sentences under it, in the drys' estimation, and, doubtless without conscious bias, he can readily construe the rules of evidence so as to make convictions under it difficult.

In all probability, too, the next president will have several appointments to make to the federal supreme court.

We touch now on a very sensitive dry spot.

The supreme court interprets the law and its interpretations are about as important as the law itself.

The present supreme justices' rulings have been, in the main, satisfactorily dry, but, of the present nine justices, not one but will be more than 60 years old before the next presidential term ends. Six will be more than 70, three will be more than 75, and Justice Holmes, if he lives, will be past 90.

It's quite possible, the drys note, that the next president will put a majority of his own selection on the federal supreme bench.

The drys don't assert that a wet president's election would mean an immediately wet country. They do believe four years of him would gravely undermine the dry law's enforcement, if not the law itself.

Put this argument in reverse, and you have the wets.

Most Ocean Fliers Seeking Publicity Alone Says Lindy

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. — Most of the air adventurers, who failed recently in attempts to span the Atlantic, were "looking for publicity" rather than seeking to promote trans-atlantic aviation, Charles A. Lindbergh, the aerial ambassador declared Monday following a visit to President Coolidge.

Lindbergh was critical of those who failed where he succeeded. He said the reason for "so many failures" was that the fliers had not organized properly for their attempts.

"They were looking for publicity rather than to promot trans-atlantic flying," said Lindbergh. "Not all of them, of course, but most of them were guilty."

Lindbergh, who lunched with the president, said he told Mr. Coolidge that the nation was very much interested in aviation. This increased interest, he added, has been shown in the development of airports although many more landing fields are needed.

Mrs. Grayson Will Make New Start

(International News Service)

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Oct. 18.—Undaunted by the failure of her first attempt, Mrs. Frances Grayson today was ready to take off again for Denmark in her plane "The Dawn".

The aviatrix who hopes to be the first of her sex to blaze an aerial trail across the Atlantic ocean, said last night that only bad weather conditions will keep her from trying again today.

Corns

Lift Off—No Pain!

Drop "Freezone" on that old, bothersome corn. Instantly it stops aching; then shortly you lift that sore, touchy corn right off with your fingers.

You'll laugh, really! It is so easy and doesn't hurt one bit! It works like a charm, every time.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store, and is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and calluses—Try it!

To Lay Gas Line From Slippery Rock To North Liberty

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 18.—Crawford & Gregory of Emlenton who operate extensively in public utilities in northern Butler county and who last year purchased the Slippery Rock Heat & Light company of Grove City, have added to their holdings in this county. The Wolf Creek Gas & Oil company has disposed of its holdings to the Crawford & Gregory company, and work has been started on improving the property purchased.

Men are at work dismantling a four-inch pipe line through the North Liberty district, and this line, which has been in use for many years, will be taken up. The company intends to lay a new three-inch line along the pike from North Liberty to Slippery Rock.

Raiser Of Potatoes Gathers 3,600 Bushels

PORTERSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 18. — Perry Davis, near Prospect, has practically completed his potato harvest and has nearly all of the 3,600 bushels which he produced this year on the market. In fact, he only has about 150 bushels left that have not been marketed. This is quite a record as he is one of the foremost producers of potatoes in Butler county and to have all of his potatoes dug and sold at this season of the year is looked upon as some feat.

Mr. Davis is now setting his farm to rights for the winter and will leave with Mrs. Davis soon for Florida, where they will spend the winter.

There is just one right way to keep the skin clear and smooth

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did." Miss Ruth Gahm, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Fall-Sinclair Trial Is Ready For Testimony

Expect First Witnesses To Be Called During Afternoon.

BETTER SPEED THAN FORECASTED MADE

Jury Box Full When Court Is Opened This Morning.

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Moving with greater speed than had been expected in the task of selecting a jury, government and defense counsel swung into the second day of the criminal conspiracy trial of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair with prospects that the first witnesses would be called this afternoon.

The jury box was full when court opened, but both sides had seven peremptory challenges to exercise. Overnight, opposing counsel had before them the problem of whether or not women should be permitted to serve. Three withstood the first day's questioning and must be arbitrarily dismissed if they are not to be members of the final jury. Two are young and attractive; the third is a gray-haired mother of three half-grown children.

It was generally accepted that the jury selection has run along faster than first expected because the veniremen on the four available panels have learned that the government will not move to lock them up for duration of the trial, as was done in the Fall-Doheny case. With few exceptions, all who have been examined thus far seem avid to serve in the case, swearing they have never read anything more than headlines about the oil scandals and asserting they have formed no opinion whatever. This is particularly true of all but one of the women questioned, for women do not have to do jury duty in Washington unless they volunteer.

Today's proceedings will be all rountine. After the jury has been finally picked, there will be a parade of witnesses from the government departments merely to identify a huge mass of letters, telegrams and manuscripts taken from federal files for introduction as evidence in the case.

Mercer Cattle Are Tuberculosis Free

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 18.—Mercer County has qualified as an acredited area of tuberculin free cattle it is said here today by Dr. H. A. Milo an official of the state Bureau of Animal Husbandry who has been here for the past week in charge of the re-test that established the rating.

The finding of less than one-half of one percent infected cattle is the rule of rating. The county is certified for three years says the Doctor.

The retest follows a county wide test of this summer. Only the infected herds found at that time were examined at this. But 30 infected cattle were found in the whole county at this test; one out of every thousand.

A total of 99 herds or 1124 cattle were examined. The 30 cattle were found in ten herds.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

VERY HUMAN

Charlie White, Michigan City, Indiana, sold the furniture that had been given his family by charitable organizations. He took the money and bought an automobile. For this he is arrested and sent to jail. Poor Charlie. He is not unlike many of the rest of his silly, struggling, crring, well-meaning, poor-doing . fellows Few of us sell the furniture and go to jail, but most of us, in one way or another, try to get what we want and pay a high price for it.

HEROES, LITTLE SUNG

So many heroes—almost casual heroes, one might say—are little in the public eye. No one sings songs about them. No one nails up tablets. John Klein, "strong man" in a circus sideshow, is dead. He was getting a child out of the way of a rattlesnake. Doing so, he was bitten and soon died. So much—a line—for John Klein. He gave his life to save the life of another. Complete love—and it never occurred to John Klein to do otherwise.

AS TO WAR AGAIN

In Europe one hears the quiet remark that Germany will not be likely to go to war with Poland before 1932. That is five years—only a moment in history. It shows that the mind of man has not yet risen above the level of war. How little so-called great diplomats are when they can think only in one way. When diplomats of powerful nations plan war it simply means they are too stupid and too brutal in their thinking to devise a sane and intelligent method of reaching harmony.

DRAFT EVERYTHING

If our thinking must continue to be on a low level, if we must accept our own stupidity and think in terms of war, Gen. Summerall, chief of staff of the U. S. army, has the right idea when he says the only way to conduct a war is to draft everything. He says: "Unless the country as a whole accepts the fundamental proposition that the entire United States will prosecute a war with the same spirit of self-sacrifice as the soldiers and sailors, the accountability for failure can not be laid to the armed forces."

If we must have war, why make a lot of boys and young men do all the suffering and dying for us?

TAKING A CHANCE

A boy, just home in Brooklyn from a coast to coast hike, says he rode in 400 different vehicles. Drivers all along the way gave him a lift. He was pretty lucky. Probably his youth helped him. There are plenty of more sensible ways of showing kindness than to pick up strangers on the road. Better show your generosity elsewhere. Tramps are in no hurry. Few road hikers are on important missions.

Keen Ears Foil Two Jail Breaks

Matron At Mercer Jail Plays Hunch And Stops Inmates

MERCER, Pa., Act. 18.—The keen sense of hearing developed by the jail matron Mrs. W. A. Bine in her four years of training here has been responsible now for stopping two jail breaks.

Hearing the six now held on jail break charges working on the bars of their cell with a hack saw Thursday night of last week is the most recent episode, the first being the night in August of 1924 that Mike Weiss and John Girsch made an attempted break prefacing their being taken to the Rockview Penitentiary for the death sentence.

Sensing these approaching calamities at the jail in a premonitory of danger, says Mr. Bone, has developed her sense of hearing to a superlative degree.

In the case of the two murderers, last mentioned, the break came in the dead of night when the jail occupants were asleep and had been in their beds for hours. The matron was awakened by hearing the two dig their way to freedom through a brick wall.

In the first named case the matron heard distinctly the sawing of the bars in the jail house. That something was going to happen, she had been mentally warned for three days. Playing the hunch she was listening all the time for such sounds as would indicate trouble.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A bus full of bluejackets whirls around the corner of Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, stopping traffic, provoking smiles, and causing a great deal of commotion generally. On the sightseeing open air top are blazoned various "Girls Wanted" signs. Sailors always seem to be in high spirits. Wonder if just mob psychology explains this. When you see them trailing around two by two, they look disconsolate enough.

They tell me there is an old man in Hempstead, Long Island, who has not been to visit the nearby metropolis for lo, these 25 years. When pressed for his reason for staying away from it, he explained that the best butchers, grocers and haberdashers in the country were to be found in his own village. Apparently he finds Hempstead satisfies his bodily needs, and he seems to have no spiritual hankerings which might be satisfied by Tex Guinan's latest night club, the glorified girls in the Follies, or the peep shows around Forty-second street.

Speaking of Tex Guinan's place (she has just flung open the door of a new one) reminds me of a new and absolutely authentic story going the rounds about this legendary night life queen. A poor but ambitious advertising man was showing four big hay and feed men from Missouri the town. The night had already cost him more than $100 when his guests artlessly suggested seeing Tex's establishment, and our hero had only $12 in his pockets. He didn't know any graceful way of sliding out of the situation, so he dragged the boys into Tex's, boldly asked the super-hostess for a moment of her valuable time and put it up to her.

"Can we have five bottles of ginger ale and sit down and watch the customers for a while, on 12 berries?" he asked her, throwing out his chest and looking her manfully in the eye, Alger boy fashion. Picture, then, his surprise when the big hearted girl, struck by his nerve or perhaps his insouciance, sat down at their table and signed the check herself. The stories piling up about La Guinan would actually crowd several books. All the young fiction writers see in her a sterling character whose heart of gold is belied by a gaudy exterior and a picturesque vocabulary.

Word went out in our quiet neighborhood the other night that two escaped lunatics from a nearby asylum were roaming the woods. All the small boys in the neighborhood were out trailing after the policemen and state troopers, and a high sense of drama pervaded the place. I think that all the householders in Mamaroneck were secretly a little disappointed when another day dawned and no fiendish crime was reported. It's human nature to exact a thrill from such a situation, even though it spells disaster to many.

Donnelly Honored At Memphis Convention

M. J. Donnelly, representative of the Edward A. Woods Company Agency of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of this city, according to the news received here, was tendered a wonderful ovation at the convention of the National Association of Tenn., when it was announced that Life Underwriters held in Memphis, he had paid for last year a total of $37,000,000 worth of insurance.

It was announced that his record led the entire world. All companies were represented at the convention.

He was elected to the board of governors of the new Million Dollar Round Table, an organization of insurance men, who must have paid for a million dollars for two consecutive years.

Waive Convention Here To Aid Uniontown To Get Public Library

"Although we did not formally withdraw our invitation to have the 1928 conference of the Pennsylvania Library Association in New Castle, yet we thought that it would be best if Uniontown did get it, as conditions there are rather bad," declared Miss Alice M. Sterling in an interview this morning.

"Uniontown, you know, has no library, and we have. It was thought that if the convention is held there next year, it might stir up favorable sentiment, and incite the people to boost for a library."

The convention, which took place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week at Harrisburg, was a huge success, according to Miss Sterling. There was a good program and interesting speakers, all of which helped to make the meeting bigger and better than ones that had been held on previous years.

Among the noted authors who were present were Louis Bromfield, author of The Green Bay Tree and A Good Woman, James Boyd, who has written Drums and Marching On, George P. Donohue, Helen R. Martin, who writes in the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, and Elsie Singmaster, another dialectic writer.

German Sugar Experts Plan American Tour

(International News Service)

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 18.—With the object of making a tour of inspection of the beet-producing districts of the United States, ten members of a commission of German sugar manufacturing experts, representing the government and the entire sugar industry and headed by Dr. O. Spengler, ranking sugar chemist of Germany, and Clemens Mayer, dictor of natural economy in Berlin, were in Denver recently.

Coming to Colorado from Utah, the party spent several days touring this state. They inspected plants of the Great Western Sugar company, and members of the commission express unanimous approval of the methods employed by that company in technical, agricultural and research work.

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret Burton of Kansas City. "I was terribly nervous and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholia. Now I am the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of other women would like to know the secret of my happiness, and I will gladly reveal it to any married woman who will write me." Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 8345 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo. Correspondence will be strictly confidential.

Police Capture Philadelphia Jewelry Thief

Thief Imagines He Is Shot, But Officer Fires Into Air, Is Captured

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—A vivid imagination today thwarted the escape of Stanley Kaminsky, 24, charged with the theft of a trunk with $10,000 worth of jewels.

Kaminsky, police assert, hurled a trunk down the stairs upon the heads of the police as they entered his home and then started for a second-story window. Police drew their pistols and fired into the air. Kaminsky fell to the floor, grasping his side, exclaiming, "I'm shot!"

An examination failed to reveal a bullet wound.

Kaminsky was arrested for the theft of the trunk of jewelry which Robert H. Drews, salesman for a jewelry firm at Providence, R. I., reported stolen a week ago.

CREDIT MEN HEAR ABLE ADRESSES

New Castle Association Urged To Affiliate With Western Penna. Organization

An invitation to the New Castle Association of Credit Men to become a part of the Western Pennsylvania Association of Credit Men was presented at a meeting of the credit men, held last evening at the Elks Club.

L. I. MacQueen, of the Western Pennsylvania Association extended the invitation, and spoke on the changes that have come about in credit organizations in the past few years.

"Years ago the social feature of the organization was stressed," he declared, "but today service is all that matters. Credit men are not intersted in building municipalities in the same way as are Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations. But, they are interested in their trade areas; they are interested in the territory in which they sell merchandise. A close relationship between the Western Pennsylvania association and the New Castle organization should be maintained because jobbers in these two localities have many customers in common."

Mr. Colliton, who is in charge of the National Interchange Bureau with headquarters in Chicago, was a visitor at the meeting and spoke of the national exchange of credit information.

Because his firm was burned out yesterday, R. T. Graham of the Pittsburgh Dry Goods company could not be present at the meeting. C. N. Lockhart presided.

Hospital Rooms Will Have Phones

Connections To Be Placed In Each Room Of New Hospital

A new feature, never before seen in the hospitals in western Pennsylvania is called for in the plans of the Jameson Memorial hospital, states Jack Dunfee, local manager of the Bell Telephone company.

In each room of the hospital there will be a jack connection with a switchboard in the main office whereby it will be possible for anyone wishing to have a phone in their room during their stay in the hospital may do so.

These phones, except in special cases, will be without bells and used only for outgoing calls. This, it is felt, will be a boon to business men who must be confined to their beds.

Plans also call for a switchboard in the office with extensions to the operating room, the superintendent's office, the nurses' quarters, the laundry and the serving kitchen, in fact, every department which goes to make up a hospital.

Two pay stations will be in the hospital also.

Independent Ticket Is Knocked Out By Court Ruling

BEAVER, Pa., Oct. 18.—The Independent party had a brief but strenuous existence, this afternoon in court, when hearing on the petition, charging fraud in procuring names on nominating petitions, was called. Attorney H. H. Wilson, for Edward M. Hayden, Midland, admitted irregularities and asked that the nominating petitions of the party be dismissed. This order was made.

Objectors to the petitions had alleged fraud, collusion and misrepresentation. E. W. S. Engle, nominee for commissioner, and John W. Hartzell, nominee for county treasurer, withdrew before the time for the hearing. The name of Hayden, as candidate for commissioner, was the only one left on the Independent party.

Republicans and Democrats will now stage a fight at the November election for commissioner. Democrats are also waging a fight for district attorney, Sam D. Wilson, nominee, against J. Baline McGoun, Republican candidate.

To Observe Rally Day, October 23 In Third Church

Rally Day will be observed in the Bible School of the Third United Presbyterian church next Sunday morning, October 23. The superintendent, teachers and officers of the school are making a special effort for a hundred per cent attendance in each class.

Last Sunday there were 980 present. It is hoped to exceed that number on Rally Day. Following the exercises in the assembly hall, the pastor, Rev. S. B. Copeland, will deliver an appropriate message in the auditorium.

The committee in charge of the event includes W. A. Hanna, Mrs. J. A. Wilson and Mrs. Milton Book.

Methodist Pastor's Home Is Robbed

ROCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 18.—Rev. R. B. Callahan, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, returned today from the annual conference held in McKeesport to find his home had been entered by thieves last night.

A strong box, containing the pastor's ordination papers and insurance policies, was taken and a gold watch belonging to Mrs. Callahan.

The home of Mrs. R. Wehr near the parsonage was also entered and several diamond rings and other jewelry taken.

Ladies Committee Gives Bridge Party

Thirty Tables Of Bridge Enjoyed Last Evening With Committee As Hostesses

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—The social season at the Ellwood Country club officially closed as far as the Ladies Entertainment committee is concerned, last evening with a lovely bridge party, given by the committee to the members of the club.

Thirty tables were in play, and decorations consisted of large baskets of garden flowers. At the conclusion of a series of games, each lasting twenty-five minutes, the score honors were awarded to the following: Mrs. Harold Seidel, Mrs. Bruce Hunter, Mrs. Frederick of College Hill, Mrs. Lee Sekulski, and Mrs. B. M. Lawther. Each lady was given a number during the serving of refreshments, and Mrs. Parsons of Beaver Falls held the lucky number.

Later Mrs. Loring Gelbach, chairman of the 1927 committee gave a short talk thanking the members for their splendid co-operation during the past season, and also individuals who donated cards, and services to the club. A rising vote of thanks to the 1927 committee concluded one of the lovliest parties of the season.

Members of the committee are:—Mrs. Loring Gelbach, chairman, Mesdames R. C. Steifel, W. L. Dean, W. R. Johnston, W. W. Seidel, J. S. Bowater, C. S. Passavant, A. D. Campbell, James Hughes and Harry Fisher.

New Castle High Floor Team Placed In Section Three

W. P. I. A. L. Basketball Committee Arranges Schedules For This Winter.

Beaver Falls And New Brighton Joined With Local District Teams.

Football is the principal dish of the scholastic sport realm at this time of the year, but the W. P. I. A. L. basketball committee looking forward to a great season on the hardwood courts, gathered recently at Pittsburgh and arranged the various sectional cards.

M. B. Horner chairman of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic basketball league together with W. A. Swick of Tarentum, J. Foster Gehrett of South High, Pittsburgh, and D. C. Nichols of Clairton High faced a big proposition this year, and had to redeal and shuffle 75 High Schools into eleven sections. It was the aim of the committee to make the various leagues as compact as possible and as well balanced as they were last season.

New Castle High will be in Section III this year along with New Brighton, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City, Butler, Mars, Zelienople and Evans City. Last year as members of Section IV that comprised Mars, Zelienople, Evans City Ellwood City and Butler, the New Castle team rode over their opponents in handsome fashion and carried through to the W. P. I. A. L. championship after a hectic series of play-off games in Pittsburgh. In the tourney at State College for the state championship the locals were beaten by Sharon High after they had disposed of Philipsburg.

Fast Section

The placing of New Brighton and Beaver Falls in Section III this year is going to make the league one of the fastest of recent years, the valley towns have cracker-jack combinations and have long been rivals of New Castle on the basketball court.

The only weak sisters in the newly created Section III appear to be Mars, Zelienople and Evans City. New Castle High had little difficulty last year in riding to the championship of the sectional battles.

The red and black team this year will have four of their stars from the championship combination back in the fold, and they should have another fine team. Captain Reider, Sillman, Ostrosky, and Richards are left from the 1926-27 team, with Turk also available for the floor team.

GRID CAPTAINS

John P. Smith is the captain of this year's Notre Dame eleven, the best since 1924, the year Rockne's "four horsemen" and "seven mules" added a number of chapters to Notre Dame football history.

Smith holds down the left guard post. He is aggressive and smart and mixes in all the plays. He is light for a lineman, weighing only 164 pounds.

Notre Dame played 10 games last year and won nine, losing the final to Carnegie Tech in the season's biggest upset.

Knockdown Rules Undergo Change By Boxing Board

Hereafter Timekeeper Shall Start To Count When Boxer Hits Floor

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 18.—Although the members of the National Boxing association, in session here, lauded the action of the Illinois boxing commission in refusing to rescind the decision of its referee in the Dempsey-Tunney fight, the association today had adopted a new rule governing the count over knocked down boxers, which widely differs from the rule in vogue by the Illinois body.

Under the new rule, the timekeeper shall begin the count as soon as a boxer is floored. The referee will conduct the other boxer to the farthest neutral corner and return to the prostrate boxer, taking up at this point the count from the timekeeper. Should the boxer on his feet leave the corner, counting will cease until he is returned to his corner.

The association also ruled that if a man falls or is knocked out of the ring, he shall be given 90 seconds to return. If he fails, or is unable to return, the referee shall give him a count.

Crombie Heads Bowling League

The members of the Duckpin league of the New Castle Works American Sheet and Tin Plate company held their annual election of officers, and general business meeting recently, and named John N. Crombie as president.

Other officers selected for the 1927-28 season were as follows:—Vice president, Edwin O. Raney; Secretary-Treasurer, Dewey Shifflet.

The standing of the league to date:

	W.	L.	Pct.

Yale Stars Are Back In Lineup

Caldwell And Cox Will Both Play Against Army Eleven On Saturday.

PENN STATE MAY DEFEAT SYRACUSE

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Yale's football stock soared to par today with the return to the lineup of two Eli backfield stars, Bruce Caldwell and Duncan Cox. Both will play in the Yale-Army classic on Saturday.

The Bulldog squad faced three hard days of scrimmage, beginning today. Special attention was paid to the first string substitutes, for Yale realizes that her varsity is not as strong as the Army first team and that the superiority of her subs over the Army seconds may be the deciding factor.

The West Pointers, however, are taking nothing for granted. Last year they trimmed Yale for the first time since 1912, and they are working hard to make it two straight next Saturday.

The injury jinx continues to pursue Penn. Paul Scull and Brill, backs, and Utz, guard, will be unable to play against Chicago on Saturday. The Chicago eleven is endeavoring to perfect a defense against Penn's "hidden ball" plays, which it failed to solved in last year's game.

Barbuti Injured.

Ray Barbuti, Syracuse captain, is injured and may not start against Penn State. It looks as if the strong Nittany Lions will cross the Syracuse goal line at Archbold stadium for the first time in history.

As a result of Ohio State's defeat by Northwestern, Princeton is no longer lashing itself into a lather over the game with the Buckeye outfit next month. The Cornell game on Saturday now assumes double importance, especially as Gil Doble promises to upset the Tigers with several new plays.

Dartmouth intends to rely upon an aerial attack against Harvard. The Dartmouth ends and backs are going the girls one better by wearing a new kind of lights pants, which come to four or five inches above the knees.

Clark, crack Harvard tackle, is injured and will not get into the Dartmouth game. Dave Guarnaccia, who throws most of the Crimson's passes, also was laid out but will play Saturday.

Washington & Jefferson is counting on a victory over Lafayette in their annual classic, as half of the Lafayette team was crippled by those rough West Virginia Mountaineers last Saturday. This game should be a corker for each team has won four games and each is determined to get the edge on the other.

Rain kept Columbia idle yesterday and the squad will work twice as hard today in preparation for Williams, whose success in lateral passing has placed the locals on the anxious seat. Howe, the Williams aerial expert, can throw laterals faster and further than any other player in the country.

The Navy eleven has been crippled by the loss of Jack Eddy, whose collarbone was dislocated in the Notre Dame game. Next Saturday the sailors will tackle Duke, conquerors of Boston college.

Grove City Will Meet Allegheny

Rivals To Clash Next Saturday In What Will Be Close Contest

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 18.—Although Shupe, formerly of McDonald high school, made a very good impression by his work at the fullback position in the Juniata game after being substituted for Holsinger, Coach Berry will welcome the return of "Mose" Lantz to the squad this week. Lantz has been out of the game with a broken shoulder blade. The return of Lantz will mean that Berry will have two able substitutes to Gus Holsinger for the fullback position.

Jimmy Bianchi, versatile quarterback who has been on the injured list, will also be back in harness this week. Coach Berry has his squad in the best condition it has been in this season just at the right time. Grove City must present its strongest lineup in order to be able to have a chance to beat the more experienced Allegheny team next Saturday. Neff, Ellwood City lad, is now the only player on Berry's squad with a serious injury. It will hardly be possible for Neff to be ready for active duty again before the Geneva encounter.

SIDELINE SCRAMBLE ROUGH, FANETTE SAYS

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18. — Here's one young lady who steps forward with the claim that football can be just as rough on the sidelines as on the gridiron.

Margaret Ramsey, 17, cheer leader of the Youngwood High School, is minus several front teeth, the result of a free-for-all encounter during the Mt. Pleasant-Youngwood game. During a scramble for the school colors, one of the embattled students swung from the ground, and sent Miss Ramsey down for the count of ten.

Now that the golf birds are thinking of winging their way south, it is hoped that Miss Helen Payson will be among those present.

It was Miss Payson who regained the Canadian women's open golf title for the United States, after its two-year stay in Canada in the possession of Miss Ada MacKenzie of Toronto.

Miss Fritzi Stifel, also from the States, was Miss Payson's opponent in the finals, the first time in the history of the championship, extending over a period of 32 years, that two United States players fought it out for the title.

Glenna Collett won the title in 1923 and 1924, although entered in the event this year, was eliminated in the play up to the finals.

Miss Collett proved to be a real stepping stone to Helen last winter in Florida when the champion woman golfer of Maine broke into more prominence by her surprising victories over the national women's golf champion. Twice Helen defeated Miss Collett, the second time in the finals of the Belleair championship for women.

Always fond of golf, she began playing it eight years ago when seventeen years of age. But only in the last few years did she take the game seriously. She is modest in her success and contributes her victory more to the playing of her opponents than her own superior work.

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 18.—The "One-Eyed Connelly" of fishdom has "crashed" one fish hook too many.

Joseph C. Snyder, local auctioneer, recently caught a 1 1-2 pound bass, and observed that the fish had only one eye. The catch caused considerable comment, some claiming that the finny emulator of "One-Eyed Connelly," of gate crashing fame swam up to the hook "blind side on," and so was caught.

Four Famous Ends — By Feg Murray

Everything must have a beginning and an end, but there is no end to the discussion as to who are the two greatest ends in gridiron history. It is generally admitted that Frank Hinkey, that "big little man" of Yale from 1891 to 1894 inclusive, was the best at the wing position that the game ever knew. Hinkey was one of Yale's greatest heroes, yet was hated and abused by other colleges and the press, probably because they never understood him. Frank never weighed more than 140 pounds, yet his muscles were bands of steel, and his unconquerable spirit was like that of a fanatic. "The Tonawanda Terror," as he was called, made Walter Camp's all-American team four years in succession, and it was said that no opponent ever gained an inch around Franky Hinkey's end.

Old Eli gave another great end to history in Tom Shevlin (1902-1905), who frankly admitted that he was the greatest end who ever lived. Tom, who was 190 pounds of bone and muscle, and as fleet as a deer, received quite a rude shock when he once asked the late Mike Murphy, Yale trainer, "If Hinkey wasn't as big as I, nor as strong as I, nor as fast as I, was he a better football player than I?", and Mike replied: "Tom, Frank Hinkey made you look like the change from a counterfeit nickel!" Shevlin was great, but he wasn't the end genius that Hinkey was, in spite of his superior physical qualifications.

Ranking almost on a par with Hinkey were "Tacks" Hardwick of Harvard and "Brick" Muller of California. Either one would make a fine mate for Hinkey on any all-time all-star team. Muller was one of the greatest passers the game ever knew, while Hardwick was known as the greatest interferer.

Paul Robson, the giant Rutgers negro, now an actor, and Bert Baston of Minnesota, a remarkable forward pass receiver, make another pair of ends that would delight the heart of any coach. Robson was an all-American end in 1918; Bashton in 1915 and 1916; Hardwick in 1914; and Muller in 1921 and 1922.

Light Workout For High Team

New Castle High Football Team Starts Preparing For South Battle.

STRENUOUS PROGRAM ON TAP THIS WEEK

New Castle high football team was not idle on Monday as has been custom for the past few weeks, but on the other hand Coach Bridenbaugh ordered the boys out on the field, and kept them there for more than an hour.

The workout yesterday consisted of running through signals with no heavy scrimmage or tackling of the dummy on the bill-of-fare. The team came through a rather hard battle Saturday with Dayton Steele but was unscratched as far as could be learned.

The New Castleteam has been fortunate this year in regard to injuries, and Coach Bridenbaugh is hoping that the injury jinx can be eliminated for all time.

South High this coming Saturday will tax the locals to the utmost. Coach Ashbaugh is driving his South High gridders through stiff rehearsals every day, and says that the boys will be fit and ready on Saturday to give the Lawrence countians a severe struggle.

Coach Bridenbaugh plans a hard workout for Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The South High game looms as one of the hardest on the locals program this season and the red and black warriors have their work cut out for them.

It is likely that DiCarlo will be back in the New Castle lineup for the South High game. Turk also will probably be in the lineup.

Sport Ritticisms

Defying all training tradition the University of Pennsylvania football team will eat pie twice a week. Those boys certainly have a lot of crust.

This new fellow Cello was beaten in his latest ring battle. They say he fiddled around too much.

A Virginia football team is said to play without shoes. That's nothing. Harvard has been playing without touchdowns for years.

John Miljus, the lad who chucked the crazy pitch in the series and let in the winning run, got a raise in salary. Now watch all the rooks next year put 'em over the grandstand.

The international chess match ended in a tie which served those who paid to see it just right.

The hot stove league can find mild entertainment during the winter months in the discussion of what Babe Ruth should draw in salary next year, in view of his record-breaking performances the past season.

Fistic 'Sharps' Would Like To Get Rocco

By ED FRITZ

The ways of a boxer's manager is no path of roses should the woes of Josephus Cumo be considered as the signor from the southern end of the city, declares that "Rocco having made a name for himself among the lesser lights of the heavyweight brigade is chased by half a dozen managers and would-be managers, all of whom would like to 'protect' him during his climb toward the first row of pugilism."

Cumo says that when he got hold of Rocco no one wanted to give the Ellwood City lad a chance. They smiled and hee-hawed when Joe saw possibilities ahead of the youngster. Now that Rocco has whipped a dozen lesser lights and added to this by knocking out Joe Burke, Romero Rojas and Sailor Maxted in addition to putting bugs in Sandy Seifert's ears, "everybody wants to help him."

Josephus makes it plain to all these dear boys that he has an iron-clad contract with the Ellwood City fighter and he isn't one bit afraid that Rocco will take French leave of his management. "Rocco isn't that kind of a fellow," says Joe. "I'm getting along fairly well with him."

Potential Possibilities.

Rocco impresses the writer as being full of possibilities. We remember the first fight he had. He fought big Charlie Haddad, also a first-timer and it was our fortune to be Charlie's adviser. Both were on the floor several times. It was a nip and tuck fight and both were exhausted when we sent Charlie out to take a desperate chance with his right hand. It land, cut a terrible gash in Rocco's forehead and his seconds threw in the sponge.

Match the same two fighters today and Haddad wouldn't last two rounds because he quit the game after fighting some big French Canadian in Montreal. Charlie had the bulk but not the legs. Rocco's legs also need shaping out and he needs a general all-around balancing but the fact remains that a house isn't built in one day. Give Rocco time, lots of fights and he will get into the money.

Just to show what kind of a boy he is, not long ago he was working out in Cleveland and along came Johnny Risko, according to Cumo. Risko prepared his hands with plenty of tape and Rocco didn't say a word. In the first round Risko cut loose with all he had, something which didn't suit Cumo and in his best Italian words said "Sic him, Emmett, get him!"

Follows Instructions.

This Rocco chap has a habit of doing what Joe instructs him to do and in the second round of that training battle, according to Cumo, Rocco went after Risko. He slammed the Clevelander around the training ring and sent him up again the wall. "I'm not afraid of Emmett's chances against Risko," said Joe after he had reviewed the training scene.

Although George Perotta lost the decision to Harry Fuller Friday night at Buffalo, his friends should not feel discouraged. Fuller is one of the best boys Buffalo has and George has not yet recovered the form he once possessed, on account of a long lay-off. Since resuming the biffing business he had three fights, not sufficient, in our opinion, to give him his old biffing eye.

Eddie Weygant travelled to Youngstown today in an effort to interest Al Zill in Rocky Marshall, the colored middleweight. Eddie wants to pit him against Battling Gahee. Weygant will also make an attempt to get Mickie Solomon another fight. Mickie defeated Eddie Taylor of Los Angeles recently in six rounds and while he won easily he failed to show at his best.

Hail Princeton As Great Team

Keep Eye Peeled On Princeton Team This Year Say Experts Of Gridiron.

TIGERS PLAYING CANNY FOOTBALL

BY MALCOLM ROY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 18.—"Watch Princeton," is the slogan that is sounding up and down the football gridirons these brisk October afternoons, for the Tigers, although the "Big Three" is no more, are launched on what may prove to be one of the most successful seasons an eleven from old Nassau has enjoyed in many a long day.

Admittedly green and inexperienced, the Princetonians are playing a canny game this fall, sound on defensive, conservative on offense but apparently always doing the right thing at the right time according to the approved Roper formula. There has been no effort by Roper and his two chief aides, Stan Keck and Al Wittmer to hurry the eleven along. Every stage in the development of the team has been planned carefully and there has been no attempt to load the backs up with a mass of new plays in the early season contests. They have all been reserved for the big November battles, but just the same the Orange and Black is forging steadily along using simple and almost rudimentary formations but executing them with just as much exactness and precision as Knute Rockne demands of his "fighting Irish."

Some people are so stuck up that their friends find it necessary to turn them down.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Ban Johnson, for many years president of the American league has resigned. He delivered his resignation yesterday to the board of directors. Frank J. Navin vice president of the circuit and owner of the Detroit Tigers has been granted executive authority until a successor to Johnson has been named. Reports are current that Ed Barrow, president of the Indians, will be named president.

In presenting his resignation verbally to directors yesterday Johnson, founder and only president of the league, explained records, bank accounts, took his collection of pictures from the walls and walked out on the directors. He has gone to Excelsior Springs for a rest. During the latter years of his presidency Johnson has been the center of many baseball storms.

Two out of two boxers pleased a Pittsburgh fight audience last night doing the unexpected. Maxie Rosenbloom and Homer Robertson were the battlers. Maxie won the decision and in the ninth session dropped Homer for the count of nine.

Jack Britton, 42, former welterweight champion and one of the smartest boxers who ever wore a glove lost a slow ten round battle to Hilaria Martinez at Brooklyn last night The ex-champion claimed to have been hit low in the first round but the claim was not allowed.

A report is in circulation in Boston that Eddie Collins may be the next manager of the braves to replace Dave Bancroft who will play shortstop for the Dodgers. Collins played second base for Connie Mack's Athletics last season.

Jose Capablanca and Alekhine played a draw in the 16th game of the series to decide the world's chess championship. The match ended in a draw after 24 moves. It was agreed that further play was useless. The standing finds Alekhine ahead 3 to 2.

The National Boxing board has changed its ruling regarding knockdowns. In the future when a boxer is floored the timekeeper shall count the referee shall lead the boxer scoring the knockdown to the fartherest neutral corner then pick up the count.. Should the boxer leave the farthest neutral corner the count is to stop until he returns to the said neutral corner.

Electric Light Line Will Extend Beyond East Brook

Farmers To Benefit By Extension Of Service; Start Work Soon

At a meeting held Monday evening, October 17, at the home of Charles F. Alborn near East Brook, contracts were signed for the extension of the electric light line beyond East Brook so that six or seven families in the rural district may have electricity.

Louis B. Round, superintendent of the Electric company, says that the line will be built as soon as possible and that they expect to be able to have light in the houses of these new patrons by Thanksgiving time.

This new extension is one of the first that has been contracted for under the new general order No. 28 of the public service commission whereby rural patrons receive electric service at the same rate as that of city patrons but guarantee the use of enough current to pay for the erection and maintenance of the rural line. Thus the contract calls for a minimum monthly charge from each patron which will cover the cost of building and maintaining the line.

At the meeting last night those who signed contracts were Mrs. H. M. Wilson, W. J. Patterson, Frank M. Shaw, J. M. McConnell and Charles F. Alborn.

Several other prospective patrons were present at the meeting and are desirous of securing an extension of the line to their properties and Mr. Round promised that as soon as arrangements could be made they would endeavor to extend the line on into Scott and Washington townships.

Among those who were present and expressed their desire of securing electric service were James Edie, George Hettenbaugh, Matthew Young, David Reichal and Mr. Post.

Four Hunters Are Marooned On Island, Held Prisoners By Mud And Quick Sand

(International News Service)

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct., 18.—Efforts were being made today to rescue four hunters marooned on the Chickaloon Mud Flats, on Cook Inlet, for fifteen days. Surrounded by a sea of mud and quick sand the men, are unable to reach the mainland.

An airplane is being used to drop food supplies to the hunters. It is thought the men will not be able to leave the flats until the mud is sufficiently frozen to bear their weight, so they can walk across it.

Says Interference Will Be Eliminated After November 1

Word has been received by Stewart Foltz from the Federal Radio Commission regarding the interference on the wave length of WCAE and WTAM.

The commission states in its letter that they are going to make many changes in wave length November 1, and that after that date, people in Western Pennsylvania will not get any interference when they tune in these two stations.

Eastman Favors Calendar Change As Economical

Kodak Manufacturer Tells United States Chamber Of Commerce Move Practical

(International News Service)

WEST BADEN, Ind., Oct. 18.—George Eastman, the kodak manufacturer, told the United States Chamber of Commerce today that the movement to change the calendar "is economically sound and internationally practicable."

World opinion is crystallizing rapidly in favor of calendar simplification, he asserted, and he urged American business men to line up in back of the movement.

"A change in the calendar is inevitable," he declared.

"It's as practical an idea as was the change to standard time years ago, he said. Before standard time was put in effect in 1886 cities were timed by half a dozen methods. New York City had six different clock times in use. Chicago had seven. The adoption of standard time resulted in great public convenience throughout the world.

Johnstown Youth Dies In Hospital, Injured In Fall

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 18.—Samuel Perry, 7, was fatally injured here early today when he fell over a 9-foot bluff near his home. He died an hour later in a hospital from a fracture of the skull. Authorities started an investigation, to determine whether a car struck him, or he stumbled and fell over the embankment.

Rear Admiral Yatos Stirling, Jr., U. S. N., who has been assigned to the command of the Yangtse Patrol Force in China, is a son of a distinguished naval officer who began his career in the Civil war. The son was born at Vallejo, Calif., in 1872 and was graduated from Annapolis at the age of 20. He saw active service in Cuban waters during the Spanish war and later served in the Philippines during the insurrection there. His subsequent career has consisted of the alternate sea and land duty customary to the service. In recent years he has been captain of the Washington navy yard and commander of the light cruiser division of the Scouting fleet. His latest post has been that of chief of staff of the Commander-in-Chief of the United States fleet.

Three Nations Set Price For Tin, To Stop Speculating

Great Britain, United States And Holland In Agreement On Tin Production

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 18.—An agreement has been reached by the tin mining interests of Great Britain, America and Holland to stabilize the world price of tin at $1,500 per ton, the Westminster Gazette announced today. The present move is being made to rid the tin market of speculators and to maintain the price level of the metal.

Great Bratain controls from 50 to 60 per cent of the world's tin production and America controls from 20 to 25 percent.

Holt M. Moore who is associated with the Armours, declared in an interview that "the world is slowly making a tin prison for itself."

"America uses about 30 per cent of the world's tin supply for tin foil alone," said Moore. It is difficult to see how the present unrestricted use of tin can be allowed to continue."

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

It is understood in National league circles that the directors of that circuit will be asked to take action this winter on the ever-growing tendency of manager and players to join the ranks of the so-called special writers.

Men vitally interested in the success of the sport are frank in pointing out the reaction already felt as the result of indiscretions of pilots and privates in "revealing" baseball secrets, stirring up dissension and waving old skeletons while collecting the extra compensation for their literary efforts.

The league moguls realize that in some instances the errors of judgment have been unintentional, due mainly to the fact that the player, or star, probably didn't even see the copy which was produced under his name.

I chatted with one of the best-known sport writers of the east during the world's series and learned with some amusement that he was writing daily stories on the fall classic for no less than four stars.

The big league moguls first awoke to the danger of the player-writer menace when one of the greatest figures of the American league burst forth in a tirade against Ban Johnson in one of his daily "articles." The matter was brought to a head when one or two playing stars of the participating teams in the world's series revealed some "inside dope" in their eagerness to supply material for their articles.

This action is contemplated as the public apparently has become a bit bored by the flood of such material. During the world's series the stereotyped views of the various games, the failure of the play-expert to add any meaty facts to the daily grist, and the sorry showing on the field of one or two of the player-scribes while laboring over the typewriter by proxy, brought the fad under the discussion.

In one edition of one of the Pittsburgh papers, for instance, appeared the thrilling accounts of four or five scribse, and most of them began with the startling and unique announcement that "Well,, we lost today's game, but the boys aren't downhearted."

The fad, of course, works a hardship on the few baseball stars who have developed skill as writers and produce their own copy. Their efforts are lost in the rush of "special writers."

It is believed that the National league, and perhaps the American league, will act to the extent of prohibiting participants in the world's series from permitting their names to appear over newspaper accounts of the games.

Seating accommodations at Braves Field, the home of the Boston National League baseball club, are being increased to 50,000 in anticipation of large crowds attending the football games to be staged there this Fall.

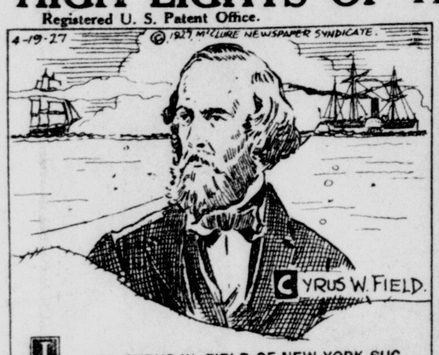
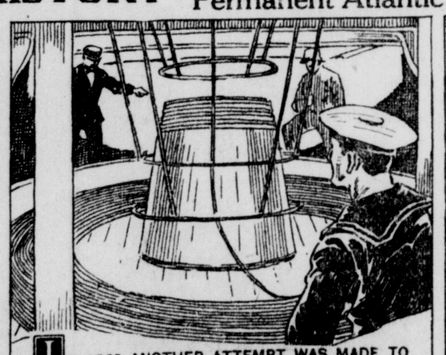
Permanent Atlantic Telegraph Cable Laid.

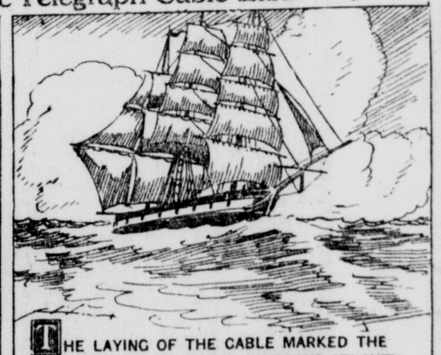
by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



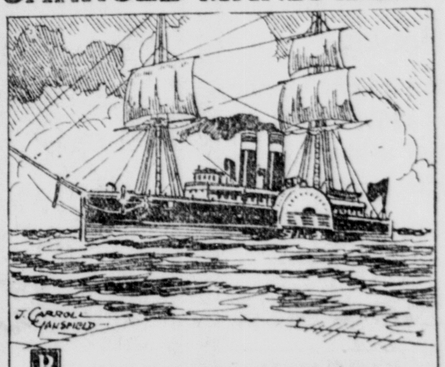
IN 1866, CYRUS W. FIELD OF NEW YORK SUCCEEDED IN LAYING A PERMANENT TELEGRAPHIC CABLE CONNECTING THE UNITED STATES AND EUROPE. IN 1858, AT GREAT EFFORT AND EXPENSE, MR. FIELD HAD LAID A CABLE ACROSS THE ATLANTIC FROM IRELAND TO NEWFOUNDLAND, BUT AFTER OPERATING SUCCESSFULLY FOR A FEW WEEKS THE CABLE BROKE.



IN 1865 ANOTHER ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO CARRY OUT THE PROJECT, THIS TIME FROM ABOARD THE "GREAT EASTERN", THE LARGEST SHIP OF THE DAY. AFTER A THOUSAND MILES OF CABLE HAD BEEN UNREELED, THERE CAME ANOTHER DISCOURAGING BREAK. UNDAUNTED FIELD BEGAN ANEW, AND THE FOLLOWING YEAR (1866) HIS EFFORTS WERE CROWNED WITH SUCCESS.



THE LAYING OF THE CABLE MARKED THE BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA IN TRANS-ATLANTIC COMMUNICATION. IN 1814 IT TOOK A SAILING VESSEL SEVEN WEEKS TO CROSS THE OCEAN. THE BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS WAS FOUGHT AFTER THE TREATY OF GHENT, WHICH ENDED "THE WAR OF 1812," HAD BEEN SIGNED, BECAUSE NEWS OF PEACE HAD NOT YET REACHED AMERICA.



BY THE MIDDLE OF THE 19TH CENTURY, A STEAMER COULD BRING NEWS FROM EUROPE TO AMERICA IN TWO WEEKS. THANKS TO THE CABLE AND MORE RECENTLY TO WIRELESS AND THE NEW RADIO-TELEPHONE, BROAD SEAS ARE NO LONGER OBSTACLES TO RAPID COMMUNICATION.

Drunken Frenzy Causes Death Of Man, Open Probe

(International News Service)

BRADFORD Pa., Oct. 18.—An inquest will be held tonight into the ...rious shooting of Fred Dufton ...ight, five miles south of Port ...leghany, killed while in an alleged drunken frenzy.

Dufton had threatened to kill his family, according to their story to Coroner H. Clay Heffner who conducted a preliminary investigation into the shooting.

Members of the family said Dufton had smashed furniture and later parts of their automobile when Frederick Jr., refused to take him to Liberty to get more booze.

Mrs. Dufton testified she secured their shotgun and handed it to the oldest son telling him to hide it. The faher heard it and wrenched the gun from the son's hand.

Mrs. Dufton ran to the garage and across a field, they testified as Dufton threatened to shoot Fred.

Shortly after Dufton turned toward the house and a shot was heard. The shotgun lay beside him when the three members of the family reached his side.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The downward movement in the industrial and railroad stocks continued at a moderate pace at the beginning of trading today. Selling of weakly margined accounts and stocks forced on the market by stop-loss added considerably to the supply of offerings and professionals did their share of forcing prices lower.

Stocks of the independent oil companies were again under pressure as the result of unfavorable forecasts of third quarterly earnings statement to be presented in a week or two. Passing of the Prairie Oil and Gas dividend has not helped matters from a stock market standpoint, but oil stocks have been so thoroughly liquidated that the offerings are comparatively smaller.

The speculative market leaders like General Motors and United States Steel found plenty of buying support in the second hour, and regained practically all of the ground lost in the early period.

Asks Presidential Candidates Assert Selves On Issues

Nicholas Butler Demands Candidates Assert Selves In Regard To Issues

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Republican party circles were stirred again today by President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, who has come forward with a demand that Presidential candidates put themselves on record on the "real issues" for 1928—such as prohibition, international cooperation for world peace and farm relief.

"We are approaching a national election and already there is abundant evidence that individuals, groups and interests are maneuvering for position," said Dr. Butler in an address before the Institute of Arts and Sciences.

"There would appear to be an almost concerted effort to creep up to the presidential office under the cover of glittering generalities and personal friendships.

"What of the real issues—who is discussing them?"

Dr. Butler called for a renaissance of reflective thinking, in American life, especially in public affairs. He demanded a new, vigorous and constructive political leadership.

May Use Pressure To End Strike In Bituminous Mines

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Officials directing the strike for the union miners in the Western Pennsylvania bituminous field conferred with Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and laid before him on his recent visit here their view of the federal strike injunction, it developed today.

Union leaders, headed by Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers, stressed the far reaching political affect of the strike. It is understood though, Murray did not care to comment on the conference. Observers consider the parley significant in view of organized labors announced intention of bringing every ounce of political pressure to bear to settle the strike.

Freight Wreck Near Warren, Pa., Ties Up Traffic

(International News Service)

WARREN, Pa., Oct. 18.—Traffic on the Pennsylvania Railroad in this region was tied up temporarily during the night when an arch bar broke causing derailment of eight cars of ore at Youngsville. Several hundred feet of main line track was torn up.

Although the crew was shaken no one suffered injury.

Dispatchers rerouted traffic.

Four Indicted In Conspiracy Plot

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 18.—Indictments charging conspiracy and receiving stolen property were returned by the October grand jury here today against four men arrested as principals in the widespread bond theft ring investigation in this region.

B. H. McKeehan, D. F. Mulligan and John J. Walsh were indicted in connection with the disposal of bonds valued at $50,000 stolen from the Garfield National bank of New York city. The bonds were part of the Bridgeport, Conn., municipal issue.

Harry Weintraub, attorney, was indicted in connection with the disposal of securities valued at $3,000, also alleged to have been stolen. These were of the Portland, Ore issue.

Betts Favored For Commerce Position

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A. A. Betts, a member of the Arizona Cooperative Commission is receiving strong consideration from President Coolidge for appointment to the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was said at the white house today.

If you're a very smart guy, suckers will support you. But they may insist on providing horizontal stripes.

A TAKE-OFF THAT WENT WRONG

Attempting to take off in a high wind from the air field at Clovis, Tex., Lieutenant Edward B. Beeds, San Diego, Cal., aviator, plunged into a nose dive from an altitude of 700 feet. Beeds, on his way from Kansas City, Mo., to San Diego, was seriously injured.

Seventy Nations Are Said To Favor World Broadcasting Idea

Secretary Hoover, President Of World Radio Organization Calls Meeting.

Would Change Name to International Radio Convention Under Plan.

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Another week of technical discussion will be required before delegates to the International Radio Telegraph Convention are prepared to risk their proposals for drafting a new world communication treaty on the floor of the conference.

The first full business session today was called for October 27 by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, President of the world organization. Verbal pyrotechnics in many languages are expected to be displayed as seventy or more nations seek to harmonize their views into a definite convention draft.

Among the possible fireworks stimulators are:

(1)—Move to consolidate the international radio-telegraph convention and the International Telegraph association.

(2)—The proposal to reallocate the voting strength of the nations represented.

(3)—American demand that the rights of private ownership be fully observed in drawing up the 1927 treaty, which will supplant the convention of 1912.

(4)—Proposal to change the name of the organization to the International Radio convention.

(5)—Question of greater recognition of the rapidly developing art of broadcasting as distinguished from commercial communication.

Many Nations in Line.

Thirty-five nations are said to back the plan to consolidate the two world organizations. United States, opposed to the move does not recognize the Telegraph Association, which not only fixes rates, but regulates specifically wire communication in all signatory countries. This country could not ratify such a convention as the rate question is privately settled under certain governmental regulation.

In its drive to obtain proper recognition for private owners the American delegation has a powerful club over the head of the foreign delegates. No treaty, which does not accord this recognition, would be ratified by Congress, officials said. With United States out of the convention it would lose a world leader communication and one of its most powerful members.

The 1912 convention did not regulate broadcasting, an art then practically unknown. Through its American development broadcasting has become a tremendously important factor in the radio industry, both from a public and a commercial standpoint. The new convention probably will move for its protection.

FIND HUBBARD MAN WOUNDED ALONG ROAD

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 18.—H. E. Ramsey, of Hubbard, Ohio, was found on a lonely road near here early today with a bullet wound on his head and side. He was believed to have attempted suicide. A .22 calibre revolver was found near the man. He was taken to a hospital where his condition was regarded as critical.

Consistory Guests At The Castleton

More than 60 guests are expected at The Castleton because of the Scottish Rite reunion which is being held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

At noon there were 35 registered at the hotel and more are expected today which will bring up the grand total well over 60.

Four Indicted For Obstructing Justice

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 18.—George Griffin, assistant to W. O. Mays, prohibition administrator for Kentucky and Tennessee, and three other men all of Mt. Vernon, Ky., were indicted by a Federal grand jury at Covington, Ky., today, on counts alleging obstruction of justice.

The others indicted were Claude Griffin, son of George Griffin; Richard Mullins, and Albert F. Sinclair.

The indictments grew out of an alleged conspiracy by the defendants to obstruct justice in the case of the United States vs The Wiedeman Brewing Co. They charge the four conspired to keep witnesses away from court and demanded $20,000 for carrying out the alleged conspiracy, which was said to have been revealed when the brewery officials refused to pay, and referred the matter to Federal officials.

Many Reservations Made For Opening Of "The Castleton"

Although reservations for the formal opening dinner and dance which will officially open "The Castleton" Wednesday, Oct. 26, are coming in rapidly with each mail, John L. Slack, manager of the house, announces that there are still a few tables left, and they will be filled in the order that replies to the invitations are received at The Castleton.

A brilliant social gathering is planned to mark the opening of New Castle's finest hotel. Prominent personages have been invited; in fact, the main speaker of the evening will be the Hon. Henry W. Temple, congressman from the 24th district, and a former professor at Washington & Jefferson college, who has been especially invited by Senator George T. Weingartner.

Along with Congressman Temple will come the heads of the American and United hotels companies, J. Leslie Kincaid and Colonel Olmstead, who will fly to New Castle by airplane.

Manager Slack promises the best dinner that ever has been served in New Castle at this opening banquet. Ten courses will be served in the finest possible manner by J. C. Brooks, head waiter, and his 20 helpers.

After the dinner there will be a dance with the best orchestra in Pennsylvania engaged to furnish the music. Special lighting arrangements have been made in the ball room for the dance. The orchestra will also play through the dinner. Favors will be given to the guests who attend the ball.

On his desk this morning Mr. Slack had letters from George Wharton Pepper, former United States senator from Philadelphia, and William S. Vare, United States senator-elect from Philadelphia, in which they express their hope that The Castleton will have the most successful of seasons and stating that if it is at all possible, they will be in New Castle to attend the opening banquet.

There has been some misunderstanding about the wording of the invitations which were sent to the citizens of New Castle and Mr. Slack wishes to point out that ten dollars a cover means ten dollars a person.

Election Board Will Be Arrested

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 18. -- Acting on orders of the Luzerne county court, the district attorney's office today moved to arrest five members of the election board of the second district, second ward at Fortyfort for alleged irregularities in ballot counts.

Judges Henry A. Fuller and Benjamin R. Jones instructed the district attorney's office to prepare warrants. Among the board members listed were Arthur Blackwell, Martin Gordon, Roy Dymond, Mrs. Lydia Starr and Francis Corcoran.

It was charged that sixty-five votes were given to Steward Gerwin for constable when they should have gone to Ernest Balcomb. Balcomb was given the nomination by the court's decision.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

It happened on East Washington street just in front of one of the larger stores. Several men of the store were unloading egg crates from the truck and because of the rain were in a hurry to get through. Another truck coming up East Washington street and just before it came abreast of the store truck, one of the egg crates dropped off squarely in front of the oncoming truck. The big wheels hit the fragile egg crate and crushed it into a thousand pieces. Fortunately the driver of the moving truck was not easily frightened and while he may have thought that the crate was full of eggs, it wasn't his fault.

Did some roaming with the United States army Monday night. Col. Leroy Smith spoke at a Legion dinner and it's a pity that every man and woman in New Castle couldn't have heard him. He is a brilliant speaker, has an apparently limitless knowledge of facts, and has a delicious irony and sarcasm when it is demanded, the kind that peels off the skin painlessly but peels it off nevertheless. An unusual chap, an outstanding speaker and a credit to the service.

Boy, page old John Silver. John, you'll recall, was one of the leading figures in Treasure Island and reveled in Pieces of Eight. The Cub goes him one better today and nonchalantly tosses a piece of poetry over which reading from left to right is entitled Pieces of Hate. The third line of the first canto may not be quite clear to some of you, but this can be explained by reading Hoyle's Commentaries. Hold your hat, we're off:

PIECES OF HATE

Collegiate hat, collegiate hat,
How I wonder where you're at!
But kings beat tens and I am flat:
So that is why you're hid bestride
A lump of fat, collegiate hat.

When you're away I'm sad and lonely,
Broken hearted, dejected, only,
Here's the rub, my darling dear,
I feel the same when you are here!
—THE CUB.

Had the pleasure of seeing the new Third United Presbyterian church Monday night and hearing their splendid new organ. This church is a credit to the East Side and to the city of New Castle. Now it's customary to congratulate the pastor upon a new church and that goes here, but along with that the laymen of the church are deserving of a lot of credit. I can't name all of them offhand, but I do know that such chaps as Dave Brown, Clarence McKibben, Gilbert Colnot and the rest of them were a large factor in making it possible. With lads like that boosting a cause, the loafers had better hold up their feet if they want to ride, for they sure get action.

The Castleton got a pretty bouquet Monday night. This man Col. Smith mentioned up above stayed there and was tickled pink with the plant, with the service and with the food. He lives in Los Angeles, so that the Pacific coast will hear something about our new hostelry.

MRS. TWOMBLY SEEKS ALIMONY

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Ethel Reese Twombly of New York, estranged wife of Willard Irving Twombly, inventor, came here Monday to go to court in quest of $15,000 back alimony.

Dudley Field Malone, the latest of half a dozen lawyers who have represented her since court action against her husband started two years ago, accompanied her.

Her daughter, Gloria, 8, cause of the present fight also was with her.

Twombly, former vice president of the Stewart-Warner Speedometer Co., stopped alimony payments, he said, because his wife refused to obey a court order to allow him to see the child at intervals.

CHARLEROI PLANS TO DEDICATE MEMORIAL

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Oct. 18. — As a monument to their "willingness to serve" rather than to their prowess in the World War, the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce on Armistice Day will dedicate one of the largest war memorials in the Monogahela Valley in honor of its ex-service men.

The monument is a towering pillar of granite, the shaft of which is thirty feet tall, surmounted by the emblematic eagle and cross arms. Its beauty of design has called forth comment from several new York critics.

The memorial committee declares that "we feel greater tribute is due the soldiers for their brave acceptance of the nation's war call rather than the prowess and ability they showed on the battle field."

SANITARY POLICE ARE KEPT BUSY

Report Shows Trio Have Multitudinous Duties To Perform

On the payroll of the taxpayers of New Castle are three men, Louis Hoon, Nathaniel Williams and Chauncey Davis, whose duty is to make inspections anent alleged unsanitary conditions, not only about properties but they also are required to act as inspectors of food, fish, meat, fruit stands and other places where health is apt to be menaced by insanitary conditions.

During the month of September, according to a report to be presented to council, the trio placed eight homes in quarantine, removed the ban from six others, and in addition to this investigated 25 alleged nuisances and made 603 inspections.

In addition to these duties, they made 67 inspections of meat and fish markets; 39 at hotels and restaurants; 41 at ice cream parlors and soda fountains, 62 in confectionery stores and fruit stands and inspected six milk depots and pasteurizing plants.

Large Advance Sale of Seats For "Queen High" Which Is At Auditorium October 25

No event of the coming season is more eagerly awaited than the coming of "Queen High" to the Scottish Rite Auditorium, Tuesday, Oct. 25th.

Based upon the once-famous comedy "A Pair of Sixes", the book and lyrics are by Laurence Schwab and B. G. DeSylva, who have caught and preserved the fine flavor of the play and transposed it into musical form. The musical score is by Lewis E. Gensler, whose catchy melodies in "Captain Jinks" still are in the ears of musical comedy devotees.

"Queen High" played one solid year in New York shattering all past records for attendance and receipts so far as musical comedy offerings are concerned.

Owing to the insistent demand on the part of the public to see this musical comedy sensation, Laurence Schwab producer also of "The Desert Song" has organized and launched nine companies of equal merit to meet the demand.

The company to be seen in New Castle is the Philadelphia organization and it is said to be the greatest of all the "Queen High" companies. Eddie Garvie and Dave Mallen will sing and act the leading parts; and the list of principals shows such names as Margaret Lee, Jack McDonell, Carrie Glenn, Mary Maryln, Georgette Armfield, Albert Downing, Danny O'Donnell, Arlyne White and Dorothea Dunn. The chorus of Broadway beauties is organized of real singers and dancers. In the matter of scenery this attraction has been mounted in a lavish manner and there is a wealth of striking costumes. The ticket sale opened at the Snyder Piano Co. today and reports indicate a rapid sale of desirable seats. Buy yours early.
